JANE P. BATTEN, HON '17

Doctor of Humane Letters

RECIPIENTS OF
HONORARY DEGREES

Jane P. Batten, you have played a monumental role in redefining Virginia's cultural and educational landscape. Never one to shy away from taking on a big project, you have helped to take many of the Commonwealth's organizations, foundations and institutions to the next level.

An honorary alumna and longtime friend of William & Mary, you have generously supported the university in many areas, including scholarships, the Fund for William & Mary and the Mason School of Business. Last year, you made possible the Mason School's new Center for Online Learning, ensuring that William & Mary business degrees are within reach for many more professionals, no matter where in the world they live or work.

Those who know you personally describe you as a determined and spirited woman with distinctive style. Those who know you as a philanthropist describe you as a woman whose vision and leadership have "literally transformed many noteworthy charitable organizations – touching K-12 and higher education, as well as the environment and society at large." It has been said that with an investment from Jane, comes Jane. You are always deeply involved in the projects you support, not only putting forth your resources but also your energy, talent and time.

In addition to your work at William & Mary, you are active with many other local foundations, including as a member of the boards for Elevate Early Education, the Slover Library Foundation, Chesapeake Bay Foundation, the Hampton Roads Community Foundation and the George Washington Foundation. You are also a benefactor for Sail Nauticus, Hollins University and the University of Virginia.

Along with your late husband, Frank, who served for several years as a member of the William & Mary Board of Visitors, you helped to create the Batten Education Achievement Fund at the Hampton Roads Community Foundation with a goal of helping pre-K-12 students in southeastern Virginia have excellent educational opportunities. The fund led to the formation of the New E3 School in Norfolk, an early education center that offers state-of-the-art education to children ages 1-5 from all socio-economic levels. A member of the board of the Alison J. and Ella W. Parsons Foundation, you have facilitated grants that have gone to area colleges and universities as well as art groups and organizations of all sizes that work with the homeless and hungry and other people in need. You are also vice chair of the board of Smart Beginnings South Hampton Roads, a nonprofit organization that addresses the issue of school readiness in the region.

Jane P. Batten, you have invested yourself in transforming access to educational opportunities for citizens of the Commonwealth and beyond. William & Mary is exceedingly thankful for the decades of care and support you have shown the university and its students. By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Visitors and the Ancient Royal Charter of The College of William & Mary in Virginia, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, Honoris Causa.

DENYCE A. GRAVES

Doctor of Arts

Denyce A. Graves, your career has taken you to the world's most famous opera houses and concert halls. You combine an exceptional gift for communication with your expressive vocalism and dynamic stage presence, and are internationally recognized as one of the most exciting vocal stars of the 21st century.

Raised by a single mother in southwest Washington, D.C., you were taught from an early age to dream big and think beyond the streets where you lived. Though crime and poverty were abundant in your hometown, your mother ran a tight ship complete with chores, homework, sewing, report writing, church attendance and gospel singing.

A self-professed "odd-ball," you never felt pressured to become one with the ways of your neighborhood. You excelled in school and ultimately applied and got accepted to the Duke Ellington School of the Arts, where you felt instantly at home.

While a student at Ellington, you were exposed to your first opera and were captivated. You finished high school in just two years and attended Oberlin College Conservatory before transferring to the New England Conservatory in Boston. Juggling up to three jobs at a time to support yourself, you earned your Bachelor of Arts degree in music.

Building on your education and the job opportunities you took after graduating, you have proven yourself a major talent, performing in leading roles in all of the most respected opera houses in the world. You are described as an absolute force of nature, which is apparent every time you take the stage, whether you are playing a role or instructing. Though your repertoire is extensive, you are particularly well known by operatic audiences for your portrayals of the title roles in "Carmen" and "Samson et Dalila," which have allowed you to work with the finest symphony orchestras and conductors.

Arguably one of the most talented mezzo-sopranos of all time, your career transcends the opera stage. After the horrific attacks on September 11, 2001, you were invited by President George W. Bush to participate in the National Prayer Service in Washington's National Cathedral at which you sang "America, the Beautiful" and "The Lord's Prayer." In 2005, you sang the patriotic song "American Anthem" during the second inauguration of President Bush. You have also made many appearances on the children's television series "Behind the Lions," where you used your talents to teach children sounds of words. Appointed a cultural ambassador for the United States in 2003, you have also represented the State Department on international missions of peace.

Denyce A. Graves, you have shown the world that from humble beginnings you can aspire for something great and exceed all expectations. You are the embodiment of perseverance, passion and incredible talent, and William & Mary is proud to recognize you. By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Visitors and the Ancient Royal Charter of The College of William & Mary in Virginia, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Arts, Honoris Causa.

SYBIL S. SHAINWALD '48

Doctor of Laws

Sybil S. Shainwald, your pioneering advocacy on behalf of women's health and social justice has made you one of the most sought-after attorneys in the world. Throughout your career, you have tackled cases others viewed as impossible, always seeing the law as a tool to right wrongs and combat injustice.

Born and raised in New York City, you graduated from high school early and came to William & Mary at the young age of 16. Fascinated by the past, you majored in American history and were a Bryan Scholar. In an effort to get the most out of your liberal arts education, you also took physics, calculus and even home economics, a course that ultimately landed you your only B. After several failed attempts at sewing the sleeves onto pajamas, you quickly learned that was not your life's calling.

After graduating Phi Beta Kappa from William & Mary, you did graduate work in history at Columbia University, all while juggling your role as wife and mother. As your children grew, you decided to become an attorney, eventually applying to Columbia Law School, from which you were rejected based on your age and gender. Ten years later, you reapplied, this time to New York Law School, where you attended classes by night and served as the director of the Center for the Study of the Consumer Movement at Consumers Union by day.

Shortly after receiving your law degree, you found the cause of a lifetime: women's health reform. Since your very first case, your legal career has focused almost exclusively on women's health issues. You have challenged pharmaceutical corporations on behalf of women in the United States and in developing countries who have been harmed by contraceptives and medical devices, the side effects of which have had far-reaching and sometimes permanent impacts on the women's health.

Despite your incredible accomplishments as a trial attorney, you say your greatest achievement in life has been being a mother to your four children, as well as your 42-year marriage to your late husband, Sidney. It comes as no surprise that you have been recognized with a number of honors through the years, including the Susan B. Anthony Award from the National Organization for Women, the Edith I. Spivak Award from the New York County Lawyers Association, the Guardian of Women's Health Award from the Institute of Jewish Humanities, and you were the first woman to receive a Medal of Honor from New York Law School. In 2012, you were inducted into William & Mary's chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, an honorary society for which you were ineligible in the 1940s because membership was reserved for men.

Sybil S. Shainwald, you have fought for recognition, compensation and regulation that will protect women for generations to come. Your alma mater is proud to honor you. By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Board of Visitors and the Ancient Royal Charter of The College of William & Mary in Virginia, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa.

THE AWARD OF HONORARY FELLOWSHIP

Most institutions of higher education, whether private or public, in the United States or abroad, were created by statute. However, there are a small number of institutions in countries presently or formerly within the jurisdiction of sovereigns of England or the United Kingdom, which owe their origin to Royal Charter. These latter institutions include the ancient colleges of Oxford and Cambridge in England, Trinity College, Dublin in the Republic of Ireland, and William & Mary.

William & Mary is both a statutory university within the Commonwealth of Virginia and a College of Royal Charter. Under its statutory charge, William & Mary confers degrees, earned and honorary. As a College incorporated by Royal Charter, William & Mary shares the full capabilities and powers of its peers. One such prescriptive right is the conferral of Honorary Fellowships.

The Honorary Fellowship is the highest honor a College of Royal Charter may award. Fellowships are reserved for individuals who bring special distinction to the heritage of the Royal Founders or signatories of the Royal Charter, or who have a connection with the university and have made an outstanding contribution to their chosen field.

William & Mary bestowed its first Honorary Fellowship on May 2, 1981, on H.R.H. The Prince of Wales. Its second Fellowship was bestowed on H.R.H. Princess Margriet of The Netherlands in 1989, on the 300th anniversary of the accession of King William III and Queen Mary II to the throne of England. Silversmith Chris Stousland, W&M Class of '76 and son of the Silversmith who crafted the Honorary Fellowship medallions based on the College seal for Prince Charles and Princess Margriet, was engaged to create an identical medallion for Glenn Close.

Now, at the culmination of the university's yearlong 100 Years of Women celebration, William & Mary will bestow its third Honorary Fellowship on Glenn Close '74, D.A. '89.

GLENN CLOSE

Honorary Fellowship

Glenn Close, you are a person of tremendous character and talent, combining extraordinary gifts for playing a role with a passion for advancing the causes you believe in. You have taken from your education and made outstanding accomplishments as an award-winning actress and humanitarian. And in so doing, you have inspired and empowered others.

Born and raised in Connecticut, you spent your childhood roaming the Greenwich countryside, which unleashed a love for role-playing and ultimately laid the foundation to become the actress you are today.

As a theatre and anthropology double major at the university, you graced the stage of Phi Beta Kappa Hall numerous times. During your senior year – while painting sets backstage – you watched Katherine Hepburn in her first television interview and were captivated by her talent and career. In that moment, paintbrush in hand, you said to yourself, “You want to do that? Do it!”

Since graduating Phi Beta Kappa in 1974, you have evolved as an extraordinarily versatile actress, appearing in a multitude of roles on the big and small screens as well as the stage. You have been recognized for your dazzling character portrayals and musical talent with countless nominations and awards. Graduating students may best recognize you from your roles as Cruella de Vil in “101 Dalmatians” and as Joan Castleman in “The Wife.”

During the Golden Globes earlier this year, as you accepted the award for Best Actress in a Motion Picture (Drama), you lifted up women, stating, “[W]e have to find personal fulfillment. We have to follow our dreams. We have to say, ‘I can do that, and I should be allowed to do that’.”

You are an impassioned activist who boldly campaigns for the issues you care most deeply about, including wildlife conservation and ending discrimination around mental health. In 2010, you founded the nonprofit organization Bring Change to Mind to encourage dialogues about mental health and foster awareness, understanding and empathy. You were instrumental in advocating for the passage of the Excellence in Mental Health Act, which was signed into law in April 2014. As a result of your contributions to mental health initiatives and your support of equal rights for the LGBT community, you were awarded the WebMD Health Hero Award and a GLAAD Media Award.

You have earned many of William & Mary’s most distinguished accolades. In 1989, you returned to the university to give the Commencement address and receive an honorary Doctor of Arts in recognition of “manifold contributions as artist, alumna and citizen in a distinguished career in the world of American cinema, television, and theatre and for unselfish commitment to excellence” in all that you undertake.

In 1993, you received the Alumni Medallion, in recognition of your loyalty and commitment to William & Mary, and in 2013, the Muscarelle Museum of Art presented you the Cheek Medal Award for monumental contributions to the arts.

Glenn Close, your talent, passion, fearlessness and hunger for knowledge are only a few of the reasons William & Mary is honored to count you among its most esteemed alumni.

Today is a historic day, as William & Mary, on the occasion of its centennial anniversary of coeducation, confers for only the third time in its 326-year history, an Honorary Fellowship.

Glenn Close, by the authority vested in the Board of Visitors by the Ancient Royal Charter, the College of William & Mary in Virginia hereby bestows and confers upon you Honorary Fellowship.

ROYAL ARMS OF KING WILLIAM

THE COLLEGE COAT OF ARMS

ROYAL ARMS OF THE
HOUSE OF STUART

THE CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

In this, the 326th year of its founding, William & Mary will award approximately 2,772 degrees. They include some 1,699 undergraduate degrees and 1,073 graduate degrees.

Of the undergraduate degrees, approximately 864 are the Bachelor of Arts; 633 are the Bachelor of Science; and 202 are the Bachelor of Business Administration.

Of the graduate degrees, approximately 312 are the Master of Business Administration; 87 are the Master of Accounting; 27 are the Master of Arts; 74 are the Master of Education; 132 are the Master of Science; 69 are the Master of Arts in Education; 13 are the Master of Public Policy; 7 are the Educational Specialist; 36 are the Master of Laws; 231 are the Juris Doctor; 19 are the Doctor of Education; and 66 are the Doctor of Philosophy.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

The Lord Botetourt Medal is awarded annually to the graduating senior who has attained the greatest distinction in scholarship.

The James Frederic Carr Memorial Cup is awarded to a graduating senior on the basis of character, scholarship, and leadership. It was established as a memorial to James Frederic Carr, a former William & Mary student who served in World War I and lost his life before he could return to William & Mary.

The Thatcher Prize for Excellence in Graduate and Professional Study is given to an outstanding graduate student completing an advanced degree in Arts and Sciences, Education, Marine Science, Business Administration, or Law, and is awarded on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Initiated in 2000 by William & Mary, the award honors Margaret, The Lady Thatcher, 21st Chancellor of the university, in recognition of her seven-year term of service.

The Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award, given in the form of a medallion, is in recognition of influence for good, taking into consideration such characteristics of heart, mind, and conduct as evince a spirit of love and helpfulness to others. It is awarded each year to two members of the student body and to a third person possessing the characteristics specified by the donors.

The Thomas Ashley Graves, Jr., Award is presented annually to members of the faculty in recognition of sustained excellence in teaching. To honor Thomas A. Graves, Jr., 23rd President of William & Mary, the award has been endowed by alumni and friends of the former president.

The Charles Joseph Duke, Jr., and Virginia Welton Duke Award is awarded annually to an outstanding William & Mary employee or one contracted to provide auxiliary services. It has been endowed by Charles Bryan Duke and Ann Evans Duke in memory of Charles and Virginia Duke for their years of distinguished and loving service to The College of William and Mary in Virginia.

THE COLLEGE AND ROYAL COATS OF ARMS

William & Mary was the first American institution of higher learning to be granted a royal coat of arms, which was issued on May 14, 1694 by the College of Arms in London. The College Coat of Arms depicts college buildings in silver on a green field with a golden sun against a blue sky. The seal does not represent actual William & Mary buildings because the coat of arms was issued before construction began on what is now called the Wren Building. The royal charter calls for a “common seal” for William & Mary and that original seal included the coat of arms in the center.

The two smaller shields represent the royal arms of the House of Stuart, from which Mary II was descended, and of King William III (of England) & II (of Scotland). The escutcheon depicting a golden lion on a blue field appears on King William’s coat of arms as a reference to the royal house of Nassau to which William belonged.

THE COLLEGE MACE

The College Mace is carried by the president of the Student Assembly at all official William & Mary convocations as a symbol of the authority vested in the rector of the university and delegated to the president of the university. As such, it always precedes the rector and the president.

Designed and handcrafted by the Gorham

THE COLLEGE MACE

THE MARISCHAL MACE

JOINT DEGREE PROGRAMME
COAT OF ARMS

Company of New York, the mace is made of sterling silver. It was given to William & Mary by alumni and students at Charter Day on February 8, 1923, upon the 230th anniversary of the granting of the Royal Charter.

The mace is four feet long. Its 12 sections commemorate many of the people and events in William & Mary's 300-year history. They include: an American eagle, symbolizing liberty and freedom of thought; a sphere, symbolizing unity; the College Coat of Arms; arms representing the early chancellors of the university; the seven seals of Colonial Virginia; full-size reproductions of three William & Mary medals; the names of 38 distinguished alumni; the earth, with the continents outlined; the names of the colonial governors of Virginia; Indian head emblems commemorating the Indian School, one of the three William & Mary departments before the American Revolution; and the names of the presidents of William & Mary.

When not in use, the mace is placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the university archivist.

THE MARISCHAL MACE

The Marischal Mace is carried by the president of the Graduate Council of the Student Assembly at all official William & Mary convocations.

A gift from the University of Aberdeen in honor of William & Mary's 300th anniversary, the mace was presented by the University's Principal and Vice Chancellor, Professor John Maxwell Irvine.

The University of Aberdeen is comprised of King's College (founded 1495) and Marischal College (founded 1593), where William & Mary's founder and first president, the Reverend James Blair, was educated.

The mace, a silver replica of one of the two maces carried by Sacrists at traditional university ceremonies in Scotland, was first carried in academic procession at the Charter Day ceremony in February 1993.

When not in use, the mace is placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the University Archivist.

WILLIAM & MARY / UNIVERSITY OF ST ANDREWS JOINT DEGREE PROGRAMME COAT OF ARMS

This Coat of Arms was officially recognized in 2015 by the Scottish Heraldry Board. It was designed by two Joint Degree students, Abigail Gomulkiewicz and Andrew Hashim (both Class of 2015) to be a unifying symbol of the joint venture. The Coat of Arms presents William & Mary's griffin and St. Andrews' dragon together holding up the book of knowledge; the third golden key rising from the other two represents the Joint Programme as a third entity growing from the two distinct universities. The Latin motto means "seek knowledge constantly."

BADGES AND CHAINS OF OFFICE

The Chancellor's Badge and Chain of Office were presented to William & Mary by the Society of the Alumni at the investiture of Chancellor Warren E. Burger at Charter Day on February 7, 1987.

The Rector's Badge and Chain of Office were presented to the university by Anne Dobie Peebles '44 upon her retirement from the Board of Visitors. She served 13 years on the Board, the last three as rector.

The President's badge and chain of office were first worn by President W. Taylor Reveley III in 2018. The badge and chain of office were gifts from President Reveley to the university in memory and honor of those William & Mary presidents who preceded him and those who will follow.

Each piece was handcrafted by the firm of Thomas Fattorini, Ltd. of Birmingham, England, and features an enameled depiction of the coat-of-arms of William & Mary, issued in 1694 by the College of Arms (heraldry) in London as specified in the royal charter. The President's badge is crafted of silver and gold; the Chancellor's badge of silver and enamel and the Rector's of silver and gold.

When not in use, the Badges and Chains of Office are placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the university archivist.

PASSING OF THE EMBLEMS OF OFFICE

On the first verse of the Alma Mater, as a public recognition of the ongoing tradition and vitality of William & Mary, the president of the Senior Class of 2019 will present the Senior Class Chain of Office to the president of the Class of 2020. On the last verse, the College Mace is presented to the incoming president of the Student Assembly by the outgoing Student Assembly president, and the Marischal Mace is presented to the incoming Graduate Council president by the outgoing Graduate Council president. With this act, the 2018-19 Session is officially concluded. Bearing their respective maces, the new Student Assembly president, followed by the new Graduate Council president, will lead the Official Party and faculties from the auditorium.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The ceremonial robes worn in the academic procession speak by their shapes and their colors of the breadth and intricate structure of the academic world. Against the basic black of caps and gowns worn by the students receiving bachelor's and master's degrees, the colors of diverse universities and academic fields stand in high relief. The gowns themselves are of different shape – note especially the sleeves – for bachelors, masters, and doctors. The typical American cap is flat with a tassel draped over the front edge, but some universities in the United States and abroad use caps that are softly peaked or round and stiff. Hoods, too, differ in shape for each of the traditional degrees. The lining of the hood announces by its color the university conferring the degree – note the green, gold, and silver of William & Mary. William & Mary's distinctive green doctoral robe was first worn by graduates at Commencement 2002. With an open front in the tradition of the British universities, the piping on the chevrons identifies the degree conferred (dark blue for the Ph.D., light blue for the Ed.D., and purple for the J.D.). The edge of all of the hoods as well as the chevrons and piping on academic gowns mark the field of study according to the following color scheme:

 Agriculture	 Medicine
 Arts, Letters, Humanities	 Music
 Commerce, Business	 Oratory
 Economics	 Philosophy
 Education	 Physical Education
 Engineering	 Public Administration
 Fine Arts, Architecture	 Science
 Journalism	 Social Work
 Law	 Theology
 Library Science

HONORARY MARSHALS

Each year the members of the senior class select individuals to serve as honorary marshals for their class. Chosen for their contributions to the class, the marshals lead the procession of undergraduates from the Wren Building to the site of Commencement and in the Academic Procession. Honorary marshals for 2019 are:

Lauren M. Garrett, Director of First Year Experience

Lenneal J. Henderson, Visiting Instructor, Professor of Government

Dana Lashley, Assistant Professor of Chemistry

STUDENT SPEAKER

This year's speaker, Rhea Sharma, is from McLean, Virginia and is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Neuroscience. She will be attending medical school this coming fall. Rhea has spent her time at William & Mary engaging in health and wellness through her involvement in a peer health education group and by serving on health committees with staff and faculty. Rhea has a passion for helping students find their home at William & Mary by giving tours to prospective families and working with new students during the Orientation process. She strives to deepen her engagement in causes she cares about while maintaining a fervent curiosity about new social justice issues, which has led her to volunteer with the elderly in Williamsburg and participate in service trips around Virginia. Rhea is deeply honored to reflect together as a community today and to get excited for all that is to come.

SENIOR CLASS GIFT

The 2019 Senior Class Gift supports various aspects of William & Mary. Senior class members either make an unrestricted gift for William & Mary's most pressing needs, or designate their gift to different areas including academic departments, student organizations, and athletics. A marker commemorating the Class of 2019's gift will be placed in the brick sidewalk near the Sunken Garden in the area known as the "Senior Walk." William & Mary acknowledges with deep gratitude this gift from the Class of 2019.

HONORARY ALUMNA/ALUMNUS

Each year the Alumni Association Board of Directors selects an individual to recognize as Honorary Alumna/Alumnus. Chosen for a distinguished record of service, support, advocacy and commitment on behalf of William & Mary, the Honorary Alumna/Alumnus joins the procession of undergraduates from the Wren Building to the site of Commencement and in the Academic Procession. The Honorary Alumnus for 2019 is Mr. R. Alexander Kurland.

ALMA MATER

Hark the students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear
Alma Mater's love they're telling
Ringing far and near.

CHORUS

William & Mary loved of old
Hark upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus
Alma Mater hail!

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days;
Singing loud from hearts that love thee
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod or golden sandaled
Shall the years go by –
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices
Listen to our cry
Bless the college of our fathers
Let her never die.

– James Southall Wilson (1902)

The Years in Review
2015 – 2019

Jill Ellis '88, coach of the United States women's soccer team, visited William & Mary.

In the summer of 2015, the US women's soccer team, coached by William & Mary alumna Jill Ellis '88, captured its first FIFA World Cup title in 16 years. Later that fall, Ellis returned to campus during Family Weekend to meet with students, faculty, staff and other fans. During that visit, she was named a Tribe Champion for Life.

Ellis also spoke at William & Mary's 2016 Commencement Ceremony, where she was awarded an honorary degree.

The Virginia Institute of Marine Science celebrated its 75th anniversary.

In 2015 William & Mary's Virginia Institute of Marine Science (VIMS) began a year-long celebration of its 75th anniversary. VIMS is home to the School of Marine Science, a graduate school of William & Mary, and is currently among the largest marine research and education centers in the United States. VIMS is unique among marine science institutions in its legal mandate to provide research, education and advisory service to government, citizens and industry. The institute provides these services to Virginia, the nation and the world.

NASA chief scientist Ellen Stofan '83 gave the keynote address at William & Mary's 323rd Charter Day ceremony

William & Mary alumna Ellen Stofan '83 was appointed as NASA's chief scientist in 2013. In that role, she served as the principal advisor to NASA Administrator Charles Bolden on the agency's science programs and science-related strategic planning and investments. In February 2016, Stofan spoke to the Charter Day crowd about the importance of space exploration to life on Earth. Chancellor Robert M. Gates '65, L.H.D. '98 bestowed an honorary doctorate on Stofan.

In the spring of 2018, Stofan became the first woman to be named the Director of the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum.

Building Boom

The third phase of William & Mary's Integrated Science Center was completed.

A new addition to the Integrated Science Center opened for the fall 2016 semester. The new facility serves as the focal point for research done in applied science. One of the more successful aspects of the Integrated Science Center is that the space devoted to instructional labs and research labs has opened additional opportunities for undergraduates to participate in research.

William & Mary Law School dedicated the James A. and Robin L. Hixon Center for Experiential Learning and Leadership.

The dedication of the two-story, 12,000-square-foot center in the spring of 2017 marked the culmination of a 16-year building program, which has more than doubled the physical size of the school. According to Dean Davison Douglas, the new space reflects the school's "strong emphasis on preparing students to practice law the day they graduate."

William & Mary launched For the Bold campaign to raise $1 billion.

In the fall of 2015, William & Mary launched a $1-billion campaign, the most ambitious fundraising effort in the university's history. The initiative, titled For the Bold: The Campaign for William & Mary, was rolled out with the announcement of a $50-million anonymous campaign commitment – the largest ever received by William & Mary. The College is the smallest public university in the nation to ever embark on a campaign of this magnitude.

In September 2016, the first regional kickoff of the For the Bold campaign was held in New York City. The Empire State Building shined brightly in green and gold in honor of the nearly 13,000 alumni, parents and friends in the area and over 97,000 alumni around the globe.

William & Mary celebrated the 50th Anniversary of African Americans in Residence

Beginning in August 2017, William & Mary commemorated the fiftieth anniversary of the first African American students in residence — Lynn Briley, Janet Brown Strafer and Karen Ely (class of 1971) — with a yearlong series of special events, guest speakers and performances, beginning with Convocation weekend and continuing through Commencement in May, 2018.

The theme is Sankofa, which, in the Akan Language of West Africa, reflects the idea that “it is not taboo to go back and fetch what you forgot.” Our commemoration slogan, “Building on the Legacy,” derives from the Sankofa teaching that we must know and understand our past in order to move forward and make the most of our future.

100 Years of Women

Beginning in 2018, William & Mary launched a yearlong celebration of the 100th anniversary of coeducation at the university. Over the course of the academic year, the university hosted a series of guest speakers, performances and special events including the first-ever W&M Women's Weekend for alumnae.

In the fall of 1918, 24 women were admitted as undergraduate students at the university. Today, women make up 45 percent of university faculty and 58 percent of the student body.

During 2018-19, we celebrated the accomplishments of the 55,000+ alumnae, and the many women students, faculty and staff of William & Mary.

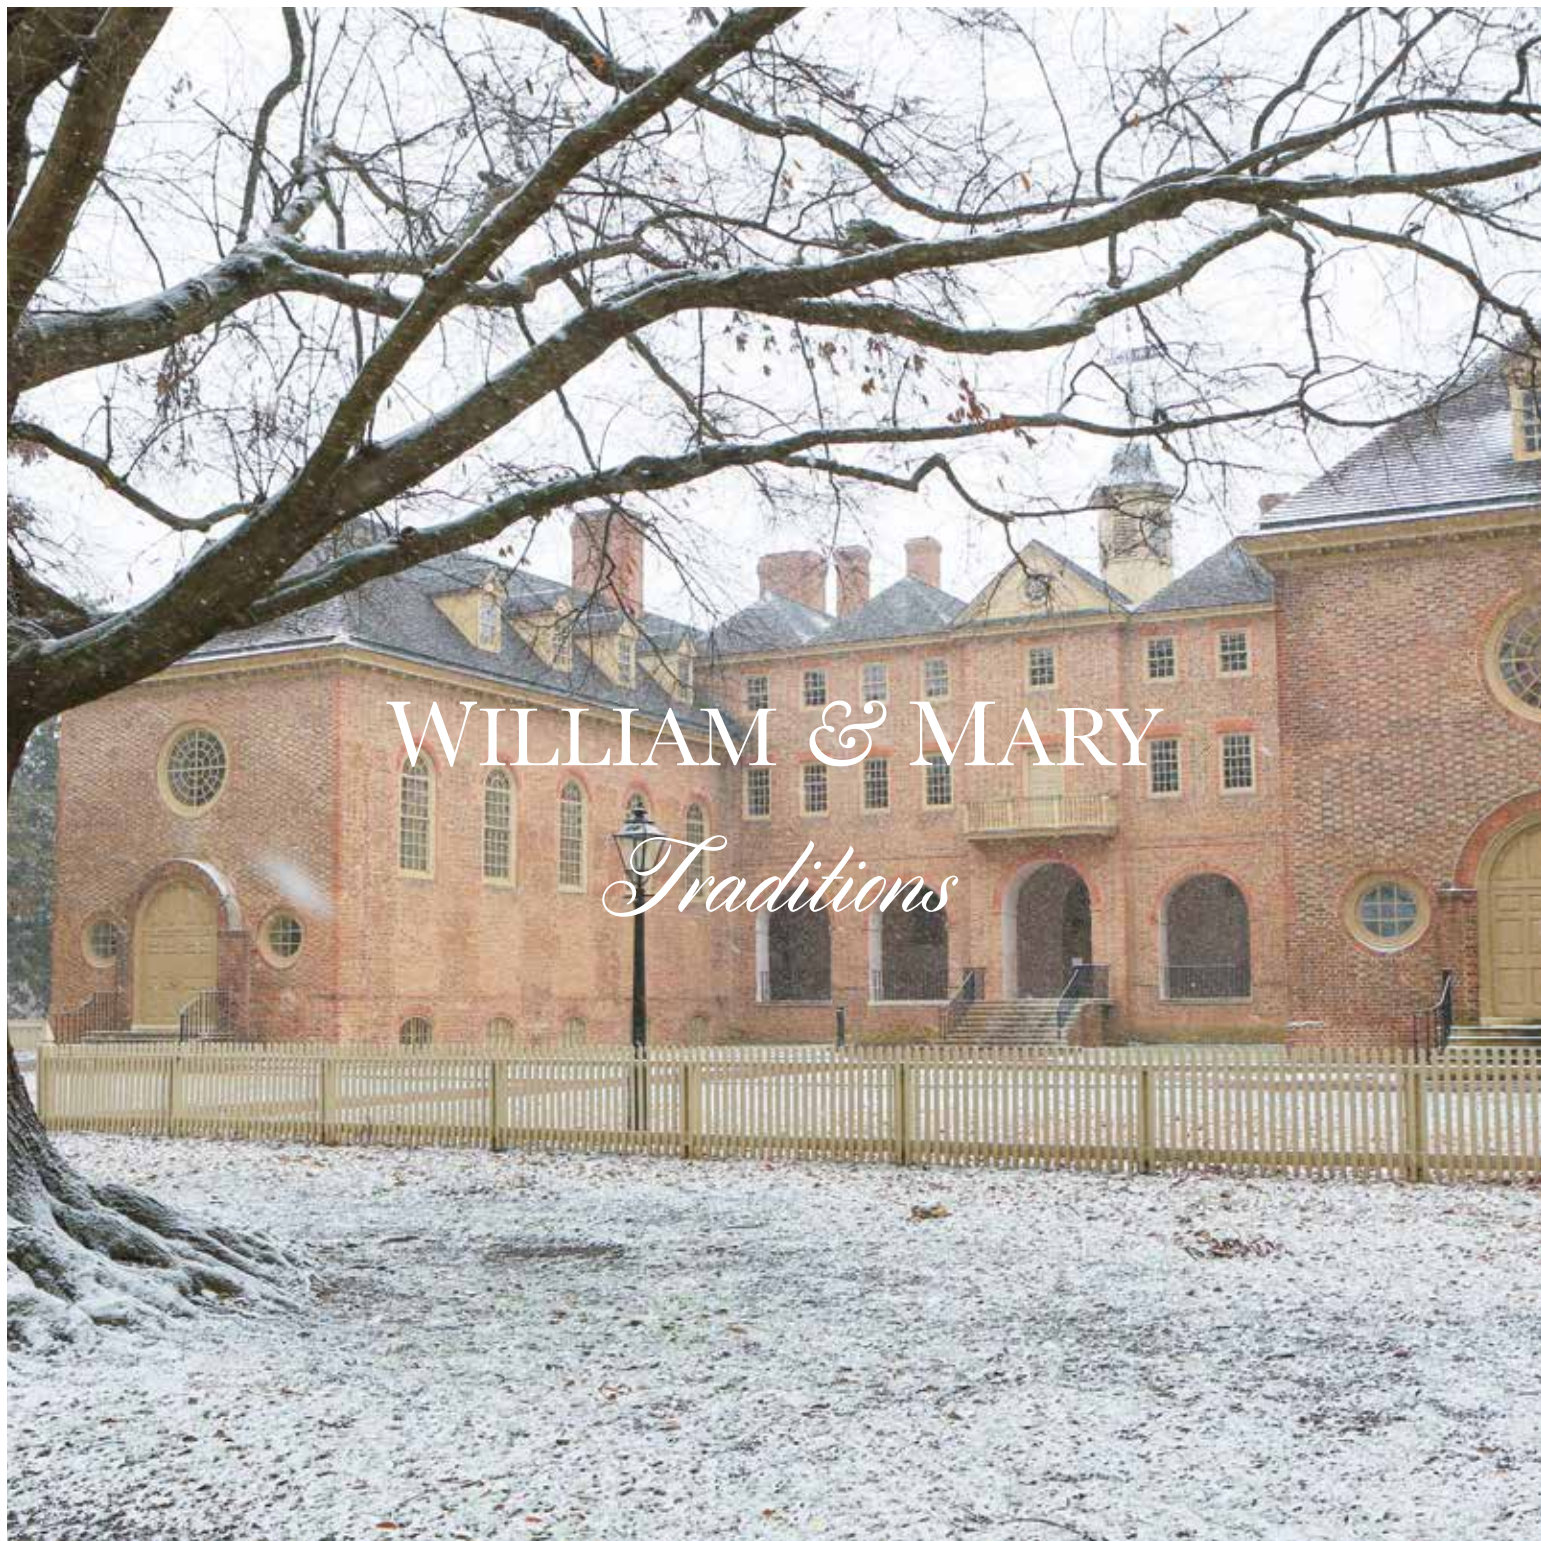

Inauguration of Katherine A. Rowe

Katherine A. Rowe was inaugurated as William & Mary's 28th president — and first woman president — during the university's annual Charter Day ceremony on February 8, 2019. More than 4,000 people attended the event in Kaplan Arena. The ceremony also featured the re-investiture of Robert M. Gates '65, L.H.D. '98.

At the ceremony, more than 140 academic institutions and learned societies were represented by delegates from across the country and beyond. Henry Hart, Mildred and J.B. Hickman Professor of English and Humanities and poet laureate of Virginia, delivered a poem he wrote to mark the inauguration. Virginia Supreme Court Justice Bill Mims '79 brought tidings from the Commonwealth. Three former W&M presidents were also in attendance: Taylor Reveley, Timothy Sullivan and Paul Verkuil.

WILLIAM & MARY
Traditions

Convocation

Continuing a tradition that was reinaugurated during William & Mary's Tercentenary in 1993, William & Mary begins each fall with Opening Convocation to celebrate the start of the academic session.

On the first day of classes, faculty, staff and students gather at the Sir Christopher Wren Building to signify the beginning of the academic year and to officially welcome all of our entering William & Mary students.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and the tolling of the Wren Building bell, the president leads the new students in a special procession from the front lawn to the Wren portico, where the new students are warmly welcomed by current members of the faculty, staff and student body waiting in the Wren courtyard. A festive campus-wide picnic dinner with live entertainment follows for the entire campus community.

The Raft Debate

Some William & Mary traditions are patently strange (just the way we like them). Consider the Raft Debate, a rhetorical royal rumble between faculty members representing different academic disciplines at the university. Here's the set-up: Four survivors of a shipwreck are stranded on a deserted island with only one tiny raft. Each must convince the audience that his or hers is the most worthy discipline to bring back to civilization. What follows are wildly theatrical appeals by otherwise normal professors and lots of semi-civil name-calling. The audience picks the winner by the volume of its applause.

Homecoming

Every October, William & Mary alumni flock to Williamsburg to celebrate and reconnect with classmates and their alma mater. Members of the Tribe, young and old, enjoy four days of parades, academic forums, parties, football and many other events.

Yule Log Ceremony

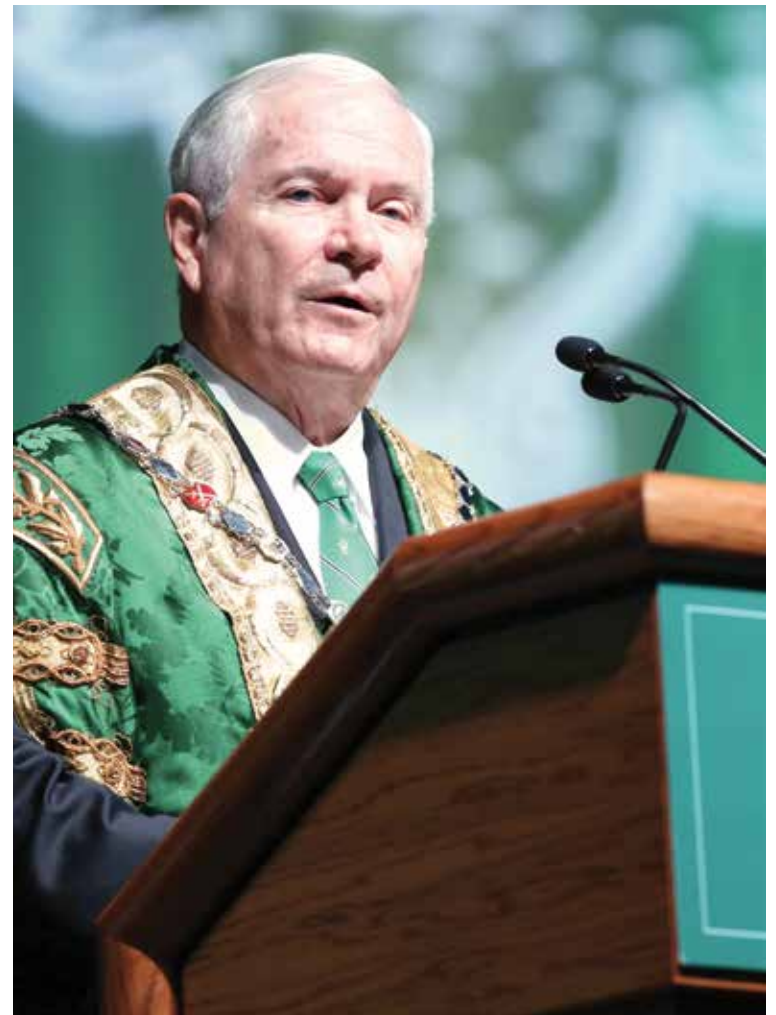

Right before students take off for Winter Break is the Yule Log ceremony. On a chilly Williamsburg night, the whole student body squeezes into the Wren Courtyard, where festive “cressets” (wood-burning torches) warm the crowd. The students are treated to live holiday music and student speeches explaining a diverse range of holiday traditions. The climax is when the university president takes the stage to lead the audience in a rousing celebration. Afterward, frozen students pile into the Great Hall to toss ceremonial sprigs of holly into the Yule Log fire for good luck. Then it's hot cider and sugar cookies for everybody.

Charter Day

February brings the annual celebration of William & Mary's Royal Charter — think “Happy Birthday William & Mary.” Charter Day features speakers of note, along with the distribution of honorary degrees and prestigious awards to students, faculty and alumni. In recent years, the weekend has also included a comedy show, sponsored by Alma Mater Productions and the Student Assembly, and the first ever Fire & Ice block party.

Last Day of Classes

On the last day of classes in the spring, there are official and unofficial traditions galore. As seniors finish their final classes at William & Mary, they're invited to ring the ceremonial Wren bell.

Commencement Weekend: The Candlelight Ceremony

The night before graduation, all the seniors flock to the Wren Yard for a magical candle-lighting ceremony. Tradition holds that the seniors select three speakers — one faculty member, one administrator and one fellow student — each of whom has had a close relationship with the class during their years at William & Mary. The atmosphere is fun and nostalgic, culminating in the illumination of the Wren Yard as light from a candle is passed from classmate to classmate. And, of course, with candles aloft, they sing the Alma Mater.

Commencement Weekend: The Senior Walk

William & Mary's unique Commencement completes the symbolic circle begun by the Opening Convocation ceremony.

Four years after they emerged from the Wren portico to the cheers of their classmates, the seniors now return in the opposite direction, passing back through the portico dressed in their full graduation regalia. From there, they continue their "Senior Walk Across Campus" to Zable Stadium, where Commencement ceremonies are held.

COMMENCEMENT PRIZES AND AWARDS

THE LORD BOTETOURT MEDAL Emily Elizabeth Martell

The Lord Botetourt Medal was established in 1772 “for the honor and encouragement of literary merit.” In contemporary times, it has been given to the graduating senior who has attained the greatest distinction in scholarship. The 2019 recipient is EMILY ELIZABETH MARTELL.

Originally from Norfolk, Virginia, EMILY MARTELL has spent the past few years growing her understanding of macroeconomic theory, applied mathematics and computer programming. A member of the Botetourt Chamber Singers, the co-ed a cappella group Double Take and chief staff writer for the Flat Hat, Emily is a student of great intellect and talent.

Always seated in the front row of class, Emily has achieved a 3.98 GPA by demonstrating a deep passion for learning, asking questions often, attending office hours regularly and taking careful notes.

Emily's interest in macroeconomics led to a summer internship at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, where based on her exceptional performance, she was offered a job after graduation before she even started her senior year.

That same summer, Emily began work on her honors thesis. Emily chose to work on a project that would hone her programming skills, since that is crucial to policy analysis. She successfully implemented two popular algorithms in the field of macroeconomics, compared their accuracy and has made a recommendation to macroeconomists on the pros and cons of each algorithm. Though she faced many obstacles throughout the project, she was never discouraged.

As a research assistant to Donald E. Campbell, CSX Professor of Economics and Public Policy, Emily helped identify glitches and unclear passages in the third edition of Campbell's book, Incentives: Motivation and the Economics of Information. In the preface of the book, Campbell writes that he owes a great debt to Emily, and that her research and critique of the manuscript were exemplary.

Emily is an exceptionally bright and talented student who is recognized by her professors for her tremendous work ethic, her ability to confront challenges head-on and her willingness to ask hard questions.

THE JAMES FREDERIC CARR MEMORIAL CUP Corey Robert York

The Carr Cup is awarded to a graduating senior on the basis of character, scholarship and leadership. The recipient should be a well-rounded student, having good standing in all three of these respects, and carrying within the spirit of willingness to sacrifice and give oneself to a cause. This year's recipient is COREY ROBERT YORK.

A former United States Marine, COREY YORK stepped up to lead the Student Veterans of William & Mary (SVW&M), an organization dedicated to promoting a sense of purpose and belonging for all military veterans at the university through service to the community. Filling the then-vacant role of president, Corey recruited his fellow student veterans to join the group and to advocate for one another and for future student veterans. Under Corey's leadership, the SVW&M has grown and increased its activity across the university, markedly improving the lives of student military veterans.

Corey helped launch the university's Green Zone Training, a biannual program that fosters discussion around issues faced by veterans and increases military cultural competency. He also partnered with the Dean of Students Office to address campus-wide registration issues for veterans and with the Office of Undergraduate Admission to track veteran student applications, deposits and matriculations. He has presided over Veterans Day ceremonies at the Wren Building, and helped ROTC organize the Military Appreciation Football Game tailgate for campus and community members.

In meetings to discuss a university veterans center, Corey assertively and courteously maintained principle over expediency, all the while championing what he believed to be best for his fellow military veterans.

Corey has accomplished all of this while maintaining a near-perfect GPA in a challenging curriculum and serving as one of President Katherine A. Rowe's student aides. His success as a government major yielded a prestigious internship at the Pentagon, where he learned and worked alongside Department of Defense officials on U.S. relations with Syria.

Through his commitment and sacrifice to serve his fellow student veterans, Corey has demonstrated character, scholarship and leadership. A dedicated U.S. Marine and equally-dedicated college student, he has imparted on the university as much as he has taken from it.

THE THATCHER PRIZE FOR EXCELLENCE IN GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL STUDY Yi Hao

The Thatcher Prize was created in honor of the 21st Chancellor of William & Mary, Margaret, The Lady Thatcher. The award is presented annually to recognize an outstanding student in graduate or professional study. The winner is selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service. The recipient of the 2019 Thatcher Prize is YI HAO.

As a graduate student, YI HAO has distinguished herself through her service to the School of Education and to the wider William & Mary community. Yi has already made significant contributions to her field, signaling the start of highly productive scholarly career.

Before deciding to pursue her doctorate in education, Yi worked at the university's Confucius Institute as a Chinese teacher. As a student, she has proven to be passionate about her studies and intentional about building connections with the university community.

Yi's scholarly contributions include five peer-reviewed articles, a co-authored book in press and 20 national peer-reviewed presentations. This high level of productivity establishes a robust emerging line of inquiry. Yi has been strategic in her course and taken advantage of opportunities to bolster her preparation for a career as a faculty member or researcher.

Complementing Yi's scholarly productivity is her participation as an AACTE Holmes Scholar and as a Social Justice and Diversity Graduate Research Fellow. These early career-mentoring programs increased Yi's professional network, and also highlighted the skills and knowledge she presents to other participants.

Yi also served as a co-organizer of writing retreats at the School of Education. She has been heavily involved in the William & Mary Educational Review since she arrived, rising through the ranks to assume the role of editor-in-chief.

Yi was selected to the International Student Advisory Board for her leadership skills and involvement with the university community. She volunteered as a peer leader for International Student Orientation and played an instrumental role in the event's success. She also completed the 200-hour training to become a yoga instructor, and aims to help the W&M community use yoga as a means for self-reflection and connection with others. She has achieved all of this while maintaining a 3.93 GPA.

The School of Education recognized Yi's academic excellence and performance with the International Student Achievement Award. This rare honor demonstrates the strong academic and personal impression Yi has made on the community.

Yi exudes ambition, diligence and desire for knowledge at every turn. She is a person of the utmost integrity, responsibility and charisma.

THE ALGERNON SYDNEY SULLIVAN AWARDS

Zauhirah Tipu, Jerome Shaen and Robert Trent Vinson

To perpetuate the memory of the life of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, the New York Southern Society has arranged to make awards to two students in our graduating class, and to one other person who has a close relationship with the university. In the selection of recipients, nothing is considered except characteristics of heart, mind and helpfulness to others. This year, the winners are ZAUHIRAH TIPU, JEROME SHAEN and ROBERT TRENT VINSON.

ZAUHIRAH TIPU is passionate, dedicated and resilient. Her efforts at William & Mary have helped build a more loving community for all.

Zauhirah served as president of the Muslim Student Association (MSA), and has been a dedicated advocate for Muslim students at William & Mary. She has worked energetically to create prayer spaces on campus, obtain Halal meat in dining halls, secure accommodations for students fasting during Ramadan, get housing accommodations for Muslim students, fundraise for a Muslim Community Center in Williamsburg and much more. She has developed a personal relationship with each incoming Muslim freshman to ensure all feel welcome on a campus that she found difficult to adjust to when she first arrived.

Zauhirah inspires her peers every day to advocate for the change they wish to see. When faced with setbacks, she perseveres and searches until she can find someone who can help.

Always looking to assist those near and far, Zauhirah has planned fundraising dinners to support those with need, including the Rohingya refugees and victims of famine in Yemen. Proceeds from these events have totaled thousands of dollars throughout Zauhirah's undergraduate career.

Zauhirah is always looking to identify how she can help marginalized groups. As the Student Assembly Secretary of Diversity Initiatives, she has overseen Queer and Trans Awareness Week, Interfaith Harmony Week, First Generation Appreciation Week, and more.

In-between her duties with the Student Assembly and various student organizations, the Center for Student Diversity and Student Leadership Development, Zauhirah helps raise critical private funds for the university in her job as a supervisor at Phonathon.

Zauhirah is known among her peers for always being thoughtful and considerate of others, approaching everyone with her warmth, love and bubbly smile.

JEROME (JERRY) SHAEN is a strong campus leader and gifted student. A business major with a concentration in marketing and a minor in art, Jerry exemplifies what it means to be liberally educated.

Among the university's most recognized campus leaders, Jerry has served in a wide range of high-profile leadership positions. As an orientation area director (OAD), Jerry worked for over a year to plan orientation schedules, select and train orientation aides and execute an intensive five-day program. He has served as an executive board member of his own chapter of Delta Chi, and this past year, he was president of the InterFraternity Council (IFC), the governing body for the university's 15 recognized chapters. Jerry holds himself to high standards and challenges the fraternity community to live up to their stated ideals. One nominator cited Jerry's consistent focus on wellness, exemplified by his creation of a new IFC executive position for Vice President for Health and Wellness.

Jerry has also been the co-executive director of TribeTHON, a campus-based dance marathon that raises funds for Children's Miracle Network Hospitals. With boundless enthusiasm and energy, Jerry applied his marketing know-how with his well-honed leadership skills to make TribeTHON the top fundraising organization at William & Mary. The event has raised more than $144,000 in four years. With seven working committees and a campus-wide focus, the organization greatly benefited from Jerry's talent.

As president of the Eta Circle of the Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society, Jerry has been recognized as a dedicated, organized and inspirational leader. He initiated study breaks in the library for ODK members, planned monthly leadership breakfasts and lifted the sights of the Eta Circle by instilling even greater pride in its membership.

Jerry is a well-rounded, phenomenal student leader and is recognized by his professors and peers for his scholarship and service.

ROBERT TRENT VINSON's passion for knowledge, teaching, fostering welcoming environments and connecting with his students is evident to all who take his courses.

The Frances L. and Edwin L. Cummings Associate Professor of History and Africana Studies, Robert studies the continent of Africa and the African Diaspora. At William & Mary, he has found bright students with genuine interest in his area of study and an institution that supports his teaching and research.

Robert came to the university in 2006, and has taught courses such as History of Africa before 1800, The Rise, Fall and Legacies of Apartheid and the History of Pan-Africanism, to name a few.

As a child, Robert's mother used to refer to him affectionately as "the little professor" because he was always reading history. Robert went on to receive a bachelor's degree at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, and a master's degree and doctorate from Howard University. After all of these years, he is still reading history in addition to teaching and authoring books on the subject.

In his classes, Robert empowers students to think creatively and to work and learn together. A student nominator admires his ability to captivate students' attention. Robert memorizes every student's name on the first day of class and has a powerful way of making all students feel welcome.

His research often involves traveling to Africa and other parts of the world, and students often assist him with his work, usually supported by fellowships that facilitate student-faculty summer research. Robert serves on the executive board of the Association for the Study of the Worldwide African Diaspora (ASWAD), and led the effort to bring the association's 10th biennial conference to William & Mary in fall 2019.

Robert encourages his students to come to office hours so he can learn more about them and connect on a personal level. A student nominator says, "I often find myself going to his office hours for help with serious questions about race, purpose, friendship and more. I never doubt that he will be there to help me sort through important questions and concerns. I truly cannot say enough about his wisdom, unparalleled character and passion for knowledge."

His students remark that his excellence extends beyond the classroom, and that it is hard to overstate just how kind, inspiring and passionate Robert is in all aspects of life.

THE THOMAS ASHLEY GRAVES, JR. AWARDS FOR SUSTAINED EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

The Thomas Ashley Graves, Jr. Award is named for the 23rd President of William & Mary and recognizes sustained excellence in teaching. The recipients of the award are selected annually by the president of the university from nominations submitted by each of the academic deans.

Lynda L. Butler

Chancellor Professor of Law and Director, William & Mary Property Rights Project and Co-Chair, President's Committee on Sustainability

LYNDA L. BUTLER teaches and writes in the areas of land use, climate change and property law. Students rave about her knowledge and passion, and consistently remark on how inspiring it is to learn from a professor who is both a nationally recognized expert, and who clearly loves to convey her knowledge. As one of her students recently explained, "Professor Butler is extremely knowledgeable and is a master of the material." Another student noted that, "she is whip-smart but knows how to deploy humor. She makes the complex understandable."

Even more impressive than Lynda's knowledge, preparation and passion, is her focus on her students' long-term success inside and outside of the classroom. One of her Property Law students wrote, "I really liked how Professor Butler seemed to care about her students' well-being, and that she empathized with us throughout the semester by mentioning her own experiences in law school." A student from her most recent Land Use course remarked that, "Professor Butler exudes sincere interest in her students' development."

For more than 40 years, students have praised Lynda's knowledge, work ethic, passion and ability to bring complicated subjects to life. Outside of the classroom, Lynda has served the Law School and William & Mary with dedication. In her roles as interim dean, vice dean, president of the Faculty Assembly, co-chair of the W&M Committee on Sustainability and in countless other positions, Lynda has gone above and beyond in devoting her time and energy to her students and community.

For her dedication to students, to the life of learning, and to William & Mary, we honor Lynda Butler with the 2019 Thomas Ashley Graves, Jr. Award for Sustained Excellence in Teaching.

Susan V. Donaldson

*Director of Undergraduate Studies and NEH
Professor of English & American Studies*

SUSAN V. DONALDSON is an outstanding teacher of both undergraduate and graduate students, and is highly respected by her colleagues and students for her creativity and dedication. She has taught a range of courses in the English and American Studies departments, including freshman seminars on women writers of the American south, core courses on American literature from 1912 to the 1960s, a major author course on William Faulkner and upper-level courses on 20th-century American women writers.

A superb classroom teacher, Susan's lectures electrify her students. She moves seamlessly from presenting her own ideas to engaging students in lively conversation. Her courses are challenging, and yet her students feel reassured by her open and compassionate demeanor, confidence in their abilities and willingness always to go the extra mile. One student commented on Susan's commitment to listening to and learning from her students, saying, "Professor Donaldson's classroom becomes a place where students want to participate and take ownership of the material and discussions. Every time she walks into the classroom, normally carrying a huge stack of books, I could not help but smile. Her excitement is infectious."

Susan forms individual connections with each of her students. She believes that good writing and a deep understanding of an academic field are inseparable from good research, and she challenges each of her students to develop their own research methodologies and to think about all the different languages, cultures and media that are available for them to explore. Susan integrates her own research into her courses and shows students how her discoveries have shaped what and how she teaches, demonstrating the excitement and the challenge of a personal research agenda. As one student noted, "It is through her example and ability to simultaneously produce excellent scholarship while touching the lives of her students that I came to see myself as a potential professor."

Susan ensures that all of her students' learning strengthens their connection to their own surroundings. "It is my hope," wrote one of her students, "that as a professor, I can inspire and change the lives of my own students the same way Professor Donaldson has changed mine."

THE CHARLES JOSEPH DUKE, JR.
AND VIRGINIA WELTON DUKE AWARD

Sherrene V. Moore

Having dedicated 30 years of exemplary service to William & Mary, SHERRENE MOORE has touched many people and improved many processes at the university. A valued member of Procurement Services, she is always ready and willing to accept new models for doing business, and she adopts a close working relationship with campus departments.

As senior procurement officer, Sherrene analyzes and decides on the most effective method of procurement transactions, manages general cooperative procurements, works with contract administrators to monitor and evaluate vendor performance and compliance and acts as the liaison between contract administrators and vendors.

Sherrene has been at the helm of several enterprise-wide programs that have had positive impact on the university, whether through improved service, process improvement or cost reduction. She conducted the request for proposal (RFP) process that evolved as a strategic business initiative on campus. The program resulted in a campus print management program, including department copiers and printers, reduced maintenance costs and the addition of a full-service print shop. She has facilitated cost effective and innovative initiatives by helping develop and start the university's online office supply ordering system with The Supply Room Company. This program is the first of its kind at both W&M and in the Commonwealth.

Sherrene is deeply committed to serving her community, her family and those with need. She volunteers at the Virginia Food Bank, a local women's shelter and her church.

Her exceptional work ethic, significant accomplishments and humble, collaborative nature make Sherrene a terrific colleague. She always adopts the concerns of colleagues as her own and respects the priorities of others.

Caring, humble, funny and compassionate are only a few of the adjectives those who know Sherrene use to describe her. She brings honor to William & Mary through her demeanor, commitment to service and contributions to community.
