HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

JUSTICE JOHN CHARLES THOMAS HON '18
Doctor of Laws

---

Justice John Charles Thomas, three years ago at Convocation, you invoked Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in your call to the Class of 2024 to be “magnificent builders.” You have been a “strong and sure” builder all your life. As a principled attorney, a distinguished judge and a compelling poet, you exemplify the power of every educated citizen to advance our country’s promise of liberty and justice for all.

You discovered early on how poetry brings people together. Your grandfather taught you at four to memorize William Cullen Bryant’s poem “Thanatopsis.” You confidently and gracefully recited all 82 lines publicly. The early experience of performing in front of an audience empowered you with the courage needed to forge new paths.

You attended one of Norfolk’s white high schools as the city was beginning to integrate. You then enrolled at the University of Virginia as one of only three Black undergraduates in a class of fourteen hundred. You earned a bachelor’s degree with distinction and then graduated from the law school.

You became the first Black lawyer hired by the Richmond law firm then known as Hunton, Williams, Gay & Gibson. You quickly rose through the ranks; in 1982, you made national headlines as the first Black attorney of a formerly all-white law firm in the U.S. South to rise from associate to partner.

One year later, Governor Charles S. Robb appointed you to the Supreme Court of Virginia. At the age of 32, you joined the bench of our Commonwealth’s highest court as its first Black justice and its youngest member ever. You won widespread respect and admiration for your rigorous analysis of the law.

In 1989, you retired from the bench and returned to your law firm. You served as chief of the appellate practice group until your retirement in 2021.

Even as you climbed to new career heights, you also sought to lift the next generation of leaders. Advocating for higher education in Virginia, you promoted the liberal arts, or “artes liberales,” to teach the skills of freedom. You have been a dear friend to this university. You welcomed the Alma Mater of the Nation into its fourth century as a member of the tercentenary commission. In 2006, you were appointed to William & Mary’s Board of Visitors and served for 11 years – one of the longest-serving Board members in university history.

You have engaged deeply and meaningfully with the William & Mary community, including addressing students at two Convocation ceremonies. In 2013, you collaborated with faculty in the university’s music department for a poetry recital of original work at Carnegie Hall in New York. In 2018, the William & Mary Alumni Association made you an honorary alumnus.

Justice John Charles Thomas, you are among the “architects of fate” Longfellow imagined. Your building has advanced equality and harmony. William & Mary proudly honors your leadership as an artist, attorney and judge — leadership that has strengthened the foundation of our republic. By the virtue of the power vested in me by the Board of Visitors and the Ancient Royal Charter of The College of William & Mary in Virginia, I hereby confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa.

THE COLLEGE AND ROYAL COATS OF ARMS

William & Mary was the first American institution of higher learning to be granted a royal coat of arms issued on May 14, 1694 by the College of Arms in London. The College Coat of Arms depicts college buildings in silver on a green field with a golden sun against a blue sky. The seal does not represent actual William & Mary buildings because the coat of arms was issued before construction began on what is now called the Wren Building. The royal charter calls for a “common seal” for William & Mary and that original seal included the coat of arms in the center.

The two smaller shields represent the royal arms of the House of Stuart, from which Mary II was descended, and of King William III (of England) & II (of Scotland). The escutcheon depicting a golden lion on a blue field appears on King William’s coat of arms as a reference to the royal house of Nassau to which William belonged.

THE COLLEGE MACE

THE COLLEGE MACE

The College Mace is carried by the president of the Student Assembly, or a designated representative, at official William & Mary convocations as a symbol of the authority vested in the rector of the university and delegated to the president of the university.

Designed and handcrafted by the Gorham Company of New York, the mace is made of sterling silver. It was given to William & Mary by alumni and students at Charter Day on February 8, 1923, upon the 230th anniversary of the granting of the Royal Charter.

The mace is four feet long. Its 12 key sections commemorate many of the people and events in William & Mary’s 300-year history. They include: an American eagle, symbolizing liberty and freedom of thought; a sphere, symbolizing unity; the College coat of arms; arms representing the early chancellors of the university; the seven seals of Colonial Virginia; colored enamel emblems including flags and arms of Great Britain, Virginia, and the United States; full-size reproductions of three William & Mary medals; the names of 38 distinguished alumni; the globe, with the continents outlined; the names of the colonial governors of Virginia; American Indian head emblems commemorating the Brafferton Indian School, one of the three William & Mary departments before the American Revolution; and the names of the presidents of William & Mary.

When not in use, the mace is placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the University Archivist.

THE MARISCHAL MACE

THE MARISCHAL MACE

The Marischal Mace is carried by an elected representative of the Graduate Council of the Student Assembly at official William & Mary convocations.

A gift from the University of Aberdeen in honor of William & Mary’s 300th anniversary, the mace was presented by the University’s Principal and Vice Chancellor, Professor John Maxwell Irvine. The University of Aberdeen is comprised of King’s College (founded 1495) and Marischal College (founded 1593), where William & Mary’s founder and first president, the Reverend James Blair, was educated.

The mace, a silver replica of one of the two maces carried by Sacrists at traditional university ceremonies in Scotland, was first carried in the academic procession at the Charter Day ceremony in February 1993.

When not in use, the mace is placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the University Archivist.

WILLIAM & MARY/UNIVERSITY OF ST ANDREWS JOINT DEGREE PROGRAMME COAT OF ARMS

JOINT DEGREE PROGRAMME
COAT OF ARMS

This Coat of Arms was officially recognized in 2015 by the Scottish Heraldry Board. It was designed by two Joint Degree students, Abigail Gomulkiewicz and Andrew Hashim (both Class of 2015) to be a unifying symbol of the joint venture. The Coat of Arms presents William & Mary’s griffin and St Andrews’ dragon together holding up the book of knowledge; the third golden key rising from the other two represents the Joint Programme as a third entity growing from the two distinct universities. The Latin motto means “seek knowledge constantly.”

BADGES AND CHAINS OF OFFICE

The Chancellor's Badge and Chain of Office were presented to William & Mary by the Society of the Alumni at the investiture of Chancellor Warren E. Burger at Charter Day on February 7, 1987.

The Rector's Badge and Chain of Office were presented to the university by Anne Dobie Peebles '44 upon her retirement from the Board of Visitors. She served 13 years on the Board, the last three as rector.

The President's Badge and Chain of Office were first worn by President W. Taylor Reveley III in 2018. The badge and chain of office were gifts from President Reveley to the university in memory and honor of those William & Mary presidents who preceded him and those who will follow.

CHANCELLOR'S BADGE AND
CHAIN OF OFFICE

PRESIDENT'S BADGE AND
CHAIN OF OFFICE

RECTOR'S BADGE
AND CHAIN OF OFFICE

Each piece was handcrafted by the firm of Thomas Fattorini, Ltd. of Birmingham, England, and features an enameled depiction of the coat-of-arms of William & Mary, issued in 1694 by the College of Arms (heraldry) in London as specified in the royal charter. The President's badge is crafted of silver and gold; the Chancellor's badge of silver and enamel and the Rector's of silver and gold.

When not in use, the Badges and Chains of Office are placed in the Earl Gregg Swem Library under the care of the University Archivist.

PASSING OF THE EMBLEMS OF OFFICE

On the first verse of the Alma Mater, as a public recognition of the ongoing tradition and vitality of William & Mary, the president of the Senior Class of 2024 will present the Senior Class Chain of Office to the president of the Class of 2025. On the last verse, the College Mace is presented to the incoming president of the Student Assembly by the outgoing Student Assembly president, and the Marischal Mace is presented to the incoming Graduate Council president by the outgoing Graduate Council president. With this act, the 2023-24 Session is officially concluded. Bearing their respective maces, the new Student Assembly president, followed by the new Graduate Council president, will lead the Official Party and faculties from the stadium.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The ceremonial robes worn in the academic procession speak by their shapes and their colors of the breadth and intricate structure of the academic world. Against the basic black of caps and gowns worn by the students receiving bachelor's and master's degrees, the colors of diverse universities and academic fields stand in high relief. The gowns themselves are of different shape—note especially the sleeves—for bachelors, masters and doctors. The typical American cap is flat with a tassel draped over the front edge, but some universities in the United States and abroad use caps that are softly peaked or round and stiff. Hoods, too, differ in shape for each of the traditional degrees. The lining of the hood announces by its color the university conferring the degree—note the green, gold and silver of William & Mary. William & Mary's distinctive green doctoral robe was first worn by graduates at Commencement 2002. With an open front in the tradition of the British universities, the piping on the chevrons identifies the degree conferred (dark blue for the Ph.D., light blue for the Ed.D. and purple for the J.D.). The edge of all of the hoods as well as the chevrons and piping on academic gowns mark the field of study according to the following color scheme:

 Agriculture	 Engineering
 Arts, Letters, Humanities	 Fine Arts, Architecture
 Commerce, Business	 Journalism
 Economics	 Law
 Education	 Library Science
 Medicine	 Public Administration
 Music	 Science
 Oratory	 Social Work
 Philosophy	 Theology
 Physical Education

STUDENT SPEAKER

This year's speaker, Correnthia W. Randolph, is originally from Amelia, Virginia, and is graduating with a Master of Education in Clinical Mental Health. She will attend graduate school for her doctoral degree this fall. Correnthia has actively engaged in her community, building relationships and teaching others about the "art of becoming" one's true self. During her time at William & Mary, Correnthia worked on bringing the knowledge she gained to the people she served. As the owner and director of The Center for Life, she works with unique individuals to rewrite their narratives and understand their place in this life. As an Ordained Minister, Correnthia believes and witnesses the power that faith, when treated as a substance interwoven with therapy, can change the mental health landscape. She sees the family structure as the bedrock of our society. Correnthia aims to help as many families as possible not merely to survive but thrive during significant changes and challenges in our country. Correnthia is a member of Chi Sigma Iota at the William & Mary Omega Mu Chapter, she is a member of Psi Chi, The International Honor Society in Psychology, and Correnthia is also an alumni member of Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, which speaks to her core values that align with leadership, friendship, and service. Her future goals are to continue growing in her academic pursuits so she will be well-equipped to help navigate future clinicians on their journey. # ACADEMIC STRUCTURE

BOARD OF VISITORS .....

The Board of Visitors is the governing body for William & Mary. The Governor of Virginia appoints individuals for a term of four years. Individuals may serve no more than two consecutive terms. The 17 members of the Board of Visitors meet 4–5 times each year to discuss matters of long-term planning and budget issues for William & Mary. The Board of Visitors regularly engages the campus community through its eight committees and the alumni community through participation at annual and special events.

PRESIDENT ..... Katherine A. Rowe

The President establishes the strategic direction of the university. For more than three centuries, William & Mary has enjoyed the leadership of presidents of surpassing vision and accomplishment. Katherine A. Rowe became William & Mary’s 28th President on July 1, 2018. Nationally recognized as an innovator in higher education, President Rowe is a champion for the importance of the liberal arts, entrepreneurship and strengthening education-workforce pathways.

CHANCELLOR ..... Robert M. Gates ’65, L.H.D. ’98

William & Mary’s Royal Charter of 1693 establishes the position of chancellor. The position is honorary and ceremonial, appointed by the Board of Visitors for a seven-year term. George Washington served as the university’s first American chancellor. The Honorable Robert M. Gates ’65, L.H.D. ’98, was named William & Mary’s 24th chancellor on February 3, 2012. He was re-invested for a second term on February 8, 2019. Chancellor Gates is the first alumnus to hold this position in the university’s modern era.

PROVOST ..... Peggy Agouris

Peggy Agouris became William & Mary’s sixth provost on July 1, 2019. A prolific researcher and scholar with a long career as faculty member and academic leader, Provost Agouris recently championed the university’s successful effort to establish a school of computing, data sciences and physics—the first new school at W&M in fifty-five years. The Provost is the chief academic officer of William & Mary and reports directly to the President. Her office is responsible for managing all academic and research programs as well as academic budgets; overseeing institutional planning and space allocation; and promoting faculty development across all academic units.

DEANS .....

Six deans report to the Provost. Each dean is responsible for providing leadership to their unit in accordance with the unit’s own mission and vision. Academic deans take special care to focus on educating students within their respective academic units and supporting faculty in achieving outcomes in teaching and research.

Arts & Sciences The faculty and programs within Arts & Sciences are led by Dean Suzanne Raitt. In over two decades of service to William & Mary, Dr. Raitt served as an award-winning scholar, teacher, faculty leader and administrator before assuming her new role as dean in 2023. At William & Mary, every new undergraduate entering the university begins as a student in the Arts & Sciences, which makes it the largest academic unit on campus, offering a wide array of undergraduate, master’s and Ph.D. programs.

The Raymond A. Mason School of Business is led by Dean Todd A. Mooradian. A former dean of the University of Louisville's College of Business, Dean Mooradian returned in 2022 to the Mason School, where he had first served as a faculty member, and later as an associate dean. He now serves as the dean and T.C. and Elizabeth Clark Professor of Business Administration. Established in 1968, the business school offers high-quality educational programs at the undergraduate, graduate and professional levels.

The School of Education is led by Dean Robert C. Knoeppel. A longtime educator and well-known scholar on educational finance, Dean Knoeppel previously served as dean of the College of Education at the University of South Florida. The School of Education's mission is to prepare transformative leaders for a rapidly changing world and educational landscape. Established as a distinct entity in 1962, the school today accounts for nearly a third of the master's degrees and almost half of all doctoral degrees awarded at William & Mary each year.

The Law School Dean A. Benjamin Spencer, a leading expert in federal jurisdiction and civil procedure, serves as the head of William & Mary Law School. He assumed leadership of the school in 2020, bringing with him a wealth of experience from his tenure at such institutions as the University of Richmond School of Law, Washington & Lee University School of Law, and the University of Virginia School of Law. Established in 1779, William & Mary Law School was the first institution in the United States to provide professional legal education. Its mission revolves around developing Citizen Lawyers through comprehensive professional training, serving the community through the provision of legal services, and engaging in impactful scholarly research.

The School of Marine Science, which is an integral part of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science (VIMS), is led by Dean and Director D. Derek Aday. A prominent ecologist, Dean Aday previously held leadership roles at NC State University and with the United States Geological Survey's Climate Adaptation Science Center. Dean Aday's visionary leadership has significantly fortified the bond between the School of Marine Science (SMS) and the broader William & Mary community. Uniquely positioned as both an independent state agency and a school at William & Mary, SMS/VIMS is one of the world's largest and most respected coastal and marine institutions and a national leader in the production of actionable science for coastal communities, advice for policy makers, and education and training for students and the public.

William & Mary Libraries are led by Dean Carrie L. Cooper. She has served as Dean of University Libraries since 2011. The Earl Gregg Swem Library's physical spaces have evolved under her leadership with the addition of the Reeder Media Center. Library services have expanded with new infrastructure for digitization that make unique collections, and the scholarship generated by our community, increasingly accessible to scholars worldwide. William & Mary's first library dates to 1698, when Virginia's royal governor, Sir Francis Nicholson, donated his personal library of more than 200 volumes. Today, the library system holds more than 1.5 million items across its general collections, the Special Collections Research Center, and four affiliate campus libraries: the Hargis Library at VIMS, the Learning Resource Center at the School of Education, the McLeod Business Library, and the Wolf Law Library.

William & Mary and Colonial Williamsburg partner to research, relocate, interpret 18th-century Bray School

Researchers from William & Mary and Colonial Williamsburg announced in 2021 the discovery of the nation's oldest extant building dedicated to the education of enslaved and free Black children. The two institutions established the Williamsburg Bray School Initiative and forged a partnership regarding the future use of the building, which was moved to Colonial Williamsburg's Historic Area in February 2023. The William & Mary Bray School Lab serves as the research home for the initiative, where scholars, descendants and local community members are exploring the history of the school building, its students and their lived experiences. In early 2024, NBC's TODAY show featured work being done by the William & Mary Bray School Lab with descendants of the school's scholars.

University Finds 18th-Century Schoolhouse Where Black Children Learned to Read

The Bray School, which taught Christianity and reading to free and enslaved Black children, was found tucked inside a campus building at William & Mary in Virginia.

The Washington Post

It has been more than a decade since academics and researchers began taking a closer look at a small, unremarkable old building on the campus of the College of William & Mary in Virginia. It had a name long forgotten, but it was a schoolhouse.

Archives were scoured. Letters were opened. Maps were studied. And a recently discovered map of the building's original wood frame, tucked into the rear of its construction.

With the pieces of the puzzle in place, there was an instant flash about the building's identity. Underneath all the years of paint and concrete remodeling and creative additions was the original Williamsburg Bray School school, on Feb. 11, 1773.

$30M gift to honor former U.S. Defense Secretary Robert Gates

In spring 2024, the university announced that a $30 million gift from an anonymous alumna who is a W&M Foundation trustee will pay tribute to former U.S. Secretary of Defense and current university Chancellor Robert M. Gates '65, L.H.D. '98 with the first academic building in the nation to bear his name.

The W&M Foundation, which owns and operates the currently vacant Brown Hall property, will partner with the university to transform the existing structure and create Robert M. Gates Hall. The renovated building will serve as a hub for research and teaching that spans disciplines, addressing global challenges such as economic development and inequality, geopolitical conflict, national security and conservation.

A LEED-certified, state-of-the-art facility, Gates Hall will be home to three university-wide centers. All three generate research of national and international consequence: the Global Research Institute, the Institute for Integrative Conservation and the Whole of Government Center of Excellence.

William & Mary's iGEM teams win Gold

William & Mary's 2022 and 2023 iGEM teams both returned from the world's premier synthetic biology competition bearing gold. The 2022 team earned a Gold Medal for its project at the iGEM Grand Jamboree competition in Paris and also won the Best Software & AI Project track.

The next year, the W&M team topped all other undergraduate teams from the United States in the Grand Jamboree. By developing a project that has real-world implications related to soil degradation, the W&M team earned a gold medal and landed in the top 10 out of 400 teams from around the globe.

In addition to winning a gold medal, the W&M team won first prize in the measurement category, which involves acquiring and analyzing data.

Transforming living and learning spaces

In the past four years, William & Mary has embarked on major efforts to rename, modernize and expand spaces on the university's beautiful campus. In 2020–21, William & Mary named facilities honoring three trailblazing alumni: John E. Boswell Hall, the Arthur A. Matsu Arcade and Hulon L. Willis, Sr. Hall. In 2022, the Sadler Center expansion opened to students. With an added 53,000 square feet, the renovated building fulfills a decades-long vision as a centerpiece of activity in the heart of campus. William & Mary's new performing arts facilities opened in the fall of 2023, and substantial progress has been made in constructing The Martha Wren Biggs Center for the Visual Arts, the future home of the Muscarelle Museum of Art.

In 2022, William & Mary announced a new era of living and learning spaces on campus. Over the course of 10 years, the university will renovate or replace 80% of its campus residences and provide two new, modern dining spaces to completely transform the on-campus experiences. Phase one of the $700-plus million comprehensive housing and dining facilities project began in summer 2023. The first new student housing is anticipated to open in fall 2025.

W&M commits to cover full tuition and fees for all in-state Pell Grant recipients

Beginning with the 2023-2024 school year, William & Mary committed to guaranteeing scholarship aid to cover at least the cost of tuition and fees for all in-state, undergraduate Pell Grant eligible students.

The new program applies to all in-state undergraduate students enrolled at W&M in fall 2023, including new, returning, first-year and transfer students. The goal is to increase the percentage of in-state undergraduates who are Pell Grant eligible to 20%.

The program is part of W&M's continuing efforts to expand access and enhance outcomes for high-achieving, limited-income students. In fall 2023, the university launched the Commonwealth Impact Partnership Program in coordination with Virginia high schools to nominate students for a scholarship and mentoring program that covers the full cost of in-state tuition and fees. That same semester, the university announced a $2.5-million endowment that will support Lighting the Way scholarships for out-of-state, Pell Grant-eligible students starting in fall 2024.

W&M cohosts NATO Youth Summit

Disinformation's impact on the future of democracy, Russia's invasion of Ukraine and artificial intelligence were recurring themes at the 2023 NATO Youth Summit, co-hosted by William & Mary and NATO in Brussels and Washington, D.C.

Titled "NextGen Freedom & Security," the event began in NATO's headquarters city of Brussels with a full agenda before switching to Washington, D.C., for the U.S. portion at the National Press Club, hosted by William & Mary. Young people from Europe, North America and around the world participated in the free, transatlantic conversation both in-person and remotely. Democracy is one of the pillars of W&M's Vision 2026 strategic plan, and its future was at the forefront of the dialogue. Speakers and panelists took questions from attendees and shared insights offering their varied expertise on topics such as climate change, national defense and impacts of the latest technologies.

W&M launches Vision 2026 strategic plan

During William & Mary's 2022 Charter Day ceremony, President Katherine A. Rowe launched the university's Vision 2026 strategic plan. The plan has three aims – to expand W&M's reach, to educate for impact and to evolve to excel – and four areas of focus: data, water, democracy and careers. In focusing on those areas, the university draws on distinct strengths of the W&M community in areas where the university already has clear expertise and a competitive advantage in addressing grand challenges. Rowe offers regular updates on progress being made under the plan, including the Virginia Coastal Resilience Collaborative, the affirmation of protected expression on campus, the quadrupling of students who receive support for unpaid internships and a partnership with the U.S. Department of Energy in a High Performance Data Facility. Details are available at www.wm.edu/vision2026.

Alma Mater of Innovation

Throughout its history, William & Mary has evolved to answer the needs of our nation — leading the evolution of the liberal arts and sciences at key moments of transformation. The next chapter of innovation is underway, as the university responds to rapid changes in research and learning by establishing a school joining departments and programs of computer science, data science, applied science and physics.

The William & Mary Board of Visitors voted unanimously in November 2023 to approve a new administrative structure, building on existing strengths and bringing together four academic units that currently operate within Arts & Sciences. A final proposal was submitted to the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia in March 2024. If approved, the school will launch in fall 2025. Through the new school, William & Mary will expand its focus on data fluency, facilitating data-intensive research while further enhancing students' career prospects in sectors that are driving economic growth.

ALL IN for the WIN

A single question sparked a movement to boldly shape the future of William & Mary Athletics: Are we All In? The William & Mary community's resounding answer to that call enabled the university to exceed its $55 million campaign goal, signaling to all 23 Division I varsity teams, their fans and W&M as a whole that athletics at the Alma Mater of the Nation matters and is a critical part of W&M's commitment to excellence.

The All In campaign for W&M Athletics was launched during the pandemic and wrapped up at the end of 2023. In total, the campaign raised $57.2 million, including $13.2 million for scholarships, thanks to the outpouring of support from 11,206 donors. Of those donors, 3,280 gave to athletics for the first time and 2,310 donors made their first gift ever to W&M. Nearly $3.4 million was secured for the Athletics Impact Fund, which infused immediate-use funds into teams, programs and areas facing pressing needs across the department. Foundational to All In's success were the volunteer leaders who put their full weight behind the campaign. It was also the vision of some of those leaders that spearheaded efforts to reimagine the new home for W&M Athletics. The "William & Mary Athletics Complex" encompasses the soon-to-be-constructed Mackesy Sports Performance Center and revitalized Kaplan Arena, the Mackesy Tennis Center, Busch Field and the Tribe Field Hockey Center. As part of All In, Dillard Field will also see major upgrades.

W&M marks Centennial of Asian and Asian American students

In 1921, Pu-Kao Chen '23 traveled from Shanghai, China, to enroll at William & Mary, becoming the university's first Asian student. Twelve years later, Hatsuye Yamasaki '37 became the first known Asian American woman to attend the university. Generations of Asian and Asian American students, faculty and staff followed — and created their own firsts — over the next 100 years. William & Mary marked that anniversary with a commemoration beginning in the spring of 2021. During the centennial, a new historical marker was unveiled near Zable Stadium to honor Arthur “Art” Matsu '27.

Brafferton Tercentennial

During William & Mary's 2023 Charter Day ceremony, the university launched a yearlong commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the Brafferton Indian School, which was constructed in 1723. Leaders and representatives from nine tribal communities attended the event, and Chief Lynette Allston of the Nottoway Indian Tribe provided a reflection on the Brafferton Indian School. The Brafferton Initiative, which was led by the Office of Strategic Cultural Partnerships, included both campus and community events, outreach and partnership with tribal communities, faculty initiatives and a renewed look at how the university can share a more complete history of the Brafferton Indian School.

Hearth: Memorial to the Enslaved

In May 2022, William & Mary dedicated Hearth: Memorial to the Enslaved, which honors the people whom the university enslaved over the course of 172 years. The dedication ceremony took place during the university's inaugural Black Alumni Weekend. Many of the people who attended had played a role in the creation of the memorial, including students and faculty who laid the groundwork for research into slavery at W&M. A month later, the memorial served as the site for the university's first in-person Juneteenth celebration. In March 2023, a handcrafted vessel that holds the fire central to the memorial was dedicated.

Curtain goes up on new performing arts facilities during Year of the Arts

Performing arts debuted a bright, modern new home at William & Mary in fall 2023 for students across all disciplines. The university's new Fine and Performing Arts Complex, which opened in W&M's Year of the Arts, brings students new opportunities to collaborate and innovate in partnership with world-class theatre, dance and music faculty. Inviting spaces for teaching, learning, research and performance are spread throughout the renovated and expanded Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall and the new Music Arts Building, which together comprise the complex. The venues will serve both the campus and regional communities, coming to life in the university's Arts Quarter.

A dedication and open house took place during 2023's Homecoming & Reunion Weekend. The event included the formal naming of PBK's main stage to be the Glenn Close Theatre in honor of iconic actor and accomplished alumna Glenn Close '74, D.A. '89, H.F. '19. The dedication also helped usher in W&M's Year of the Arts, which amplified the crucial importance of arts education in the 21st century and highlighted the vital role that the arts play in all facets of W&M's educational experience. The year, which was extended through the end of 2024, features a variety of performances, exhibitions and other events.

YEAR OF THE ARTS

Making headlines around the globe

William & Mary often finds itself in the national or international spotlight thanks to its impactful initiatives or the scholarship of its faculty and students. The work of AidData, an international development research lab based at W&M's Global Research Institute, has made news around the world multiple times for its research on such topics as China's lending practices. The reports have been covered in outlets including The Economist, the Financial Times, Bloomberg, the Associated Press, BBC News and The Wall Street Journal.

Closer to home, the university's work to promote civil discourse was featured in The Washington Post. That newspaper also ran a front-page story about the Williamsburg Bray School, which was later featured on NBC's TODAY show. The university's Hearth: Memorial to the Enslaved also made national headlines when its design was unveiled, and an Associated Press story about the memorial ran in The Washington Times and U.S. News & World Report, among other publications. William & Mary hit the front page of a national publication again when The New York Times highlighted work being done at Highland, the university-owned historic home of U.S. President James Monroe, with descendants of the enslaved people who lived and worked there.

WILLIAM & MARY

Traditions

Convocation

Continuing a tradition that was reinaugurated during William & Mary's tercentenary in 1993, William & Mary begins each fall semester with Opening Convocation to celebrate the start of the academic session.

On the first day of classes, faculty, staff and students gather at the Sir Christopher Wren Building to signify the beginning of the academic year and to officially welcome the incoming class.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and the tolling of the Wren Building bell, the president leads the new students in a special procession from the Wren Yard to the Wren portico, where the new students are warmly welcomed by current members of the faculty, staff and student body waiting in the Wren courtyard. A festive campus-wide celebration with live entertainment follows for the entire campus community.

Homecoming

Every October, William & Mary alumni flock to Williamsburg to celebrate and reconnect with classmates and their alma mater. Members of the Tribe, young and old, enjoy four days of parades, academic forums, parties, football and many other events.

In 2021, Homecoming weekend included an in-person Commencement ceremony for the Class of 2020.

Yule Log Ceremony

Right before students take off for Winter Break is the Yule Log ceremony. On a chilly Williamsburg night, the whole student body squeezes into the Wren Courtyard, where festive “cressets” (wood-burning torches) warm the crowd. The students are treated to live holiday music and student speeches explaining a diverse range of holiday traditions. The climax is when the university president takes the stage to lead the audience in a rousing celebration. Afterward, students pile into the Great Hall to toss ceremonial sprigs of holly into the Yule Log fire for good luck. Then it’s hot cider and sugar cookies for everybody.

Charter Day

February brings the annual celebration of William & Mary's Royal Charter — think “Happy Birthday William & Mary.” Charter Day features speakers of note, along with the distribution of honorary degrees and prestigious awards to students, faculty and alumni. In recent years, the weekend has also included a comedy show, sponsored by Alma Mater Productions and the Student Assembly.

One Tribe One Day

William & Mary's One Tribe One Day is more than a day of giving back and paying it forward. It's a beloved annual tradition and a record-breaking, impact-making, community-gathering day of Tribe Pride around the globe. Every gift to any area, no matter the size, makes a difference and helps unlock university-wide giving challenges that increase the impact of each gift. Since its inception, OTOD has inspired more than 63,000 donors to give a total of $27.9 million to William & Mary in support of 1,000+ areas across campus. Donors from all 50 states and countries across the globe have participated in the day.

Last Day of Classes

On the last day of classes in the spring, graduating students are invited to ring the ceremonial Wren bell.

Commencement Weekend: The Candlelight Ceremony

The Thursday of Commencement weekend, graduating students are invited to gather for a candle-lighting ceremony. Tradition holds that the seniors select three speakers — one faculty member, one administrator and one fellow student — each of whom has had a close relationship with the class during their years at William & Mary. The atmosphere is fun and nostalgic, culminating in illuminating and raising the candles together as a graduating class. And, of course, with candles aloft, they sing the Alma Mater.

The Walk Across Campus

William & Mary's unique Commencement completes the symbolic circle begun by the Opening Convocation ceremony. Four years after they emerged from the Wren portico to the cheers of their classmates, the graduating students now return in the opposite direction, passing back through the portico dressed in their full graduation regalia. From there, they continue their "Walk Across Campus" to Zable Stadium, where Commencement ceremonies are held.

The Lord Botetourt Medal is presented each year to the undergraduate student who has most distinguished him or herself in scholarship during their time at William & Mary. In 2024, this singular honor is awarded to ROBERT K. GOURDIE.

Mr. Gourdie is recognized for his distinction as a scholar and for his passion, curiosity and empathy. In the words of one nominator, “He is an astounding student and human that truly exemplifies the best and brightest W&M has to offer.”

Mr. Gourdie graduates with a degree in chemistry marked first-class with a perfect 4.0 GPA. He plans to pursue a Ph.D. at the University of California Berkeley’s prestigious chemistry program. Even before his first semester, Mr. Gourdie joined Professor Douglas D. Young’s chemistry lab. As a nominator wrote, Mr. Gourdie’s “ability to quickly grasp chemical concepts, communicate science and work around typical research roadblocks is reflected in his impressive research productivity.”

Mr. Gourdie’s research has already resulted in several papers published in high-impact journals, and his advisors anticipate additional publications, including in top chemistry journals. His work focuses on developing new methods for bioconjugation reactions, which have applications in several fields. Through the National Science Foundation’s graduate research fellowship program, Mr. Gourdie wrote an independent grant proposal focusing on the use of unnatural amino acids, which his advisors note reflects his original ideas and creativity.

Mr. Gourdie’s passion and talent for research earned him the Barry Goldwater Scholarship, one of the most prestigious national undergraduate scholarships in the natural sciences, engineering and mathematics. He was also awarded William & Mary’s 1693 Scholarship, facilitating his undergraduate research. Professor Young shared, “I have 100% confidence that Dr. Robert Gourdie is a name that will be well known in the scientific community for years to come.”

In addition to his own impressive scholarship, Mr. Gourdie co-founded the chemistry department’s hybrid mentoring and tutoring program. He has volunteered through the service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega and served as a confidential peer advocate with The Haven.

“Robby is truly a once-in-a-lifetime student,” said one nominator. William & Mary is honored to recognize Robby Gourdie for his excellence in scholarship, generosity and dedicated service to the world around him.

THE JAMES FREDERIC CARR MEMORIAL CUP

KELSEY M. MCALISTER

The James Frederic Carr Memorial Cup was established in honor of a William & Mary student who served with distinction in the First World War and lost his life before he could return to graduate. The award recognizes the student who best exemplifies character, scholarship and leadership. The recipient of the 2024 Carr Memorial Cup is KELSEY M. MCALISTER.

Ms. McAlister’s quest for excellence in scholarship, leadership and community impact exemplifies the qualities of the Carr Memorial Cup. In her own words, Ms. McAlister strives “to learn, and to always be thirsty for more knowledge.”

Ms. McAlister graduates with a double major in government and sociology: criminology, law & society. She has achieved a near-perfect 3.9 GPA and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and a Sharpe Community Scholar. Ms. McAlister’s extensive service stretches into her role as a student partner at the Studio for Teaching & Learning Innovation and her membership of the Chi Omega Fraternity.

Ms. McAlister pours her “heart and soul into advocating against wrongful convictions.” In late 2020, Ms. McAlister helped her peers register the William & Mary Innocence Club as a recognized student organization. She served as the club’s vice president of outreach for three years before taking the helm as president in her senior year. Ms. McAlister organized dozens of events with guest speakers, including influential exonerees and lawyers.

Ms. McAlister also serves as vice president of outreach on the executive board of Camp Kesem. Even after camp is over, she continues to build relationships and contact with the children and their families.

A distinguished scholar, Ms. McAlister served as a research assistant before becoming the only undergraduate fellow for the William & Mary Law School’s Center for Criminal Justice Policy and Reform under the guidance of Vice Dean Kami Chavis. Ms. McAlister researched how Conviction Integrity Units across the nation can help exonerate those wrongfully convicted. As an intern at a law firm specializing in prosecutions, Ms. McAlister learned the intricacies of seeking a conviction. She has also researched the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act’s effect on habeas corpus petitions for the “actually innocent” for a William & Mary alumni-funded nonprofit.

Ms. McAlister will attend Wake Forest School of Law on a full-tuition merit scholarship next year. As one nominator noted, Kelsey McAlister “is well-rounded and dedicated to her commitments, a strong leader on campus, and an overall inspiration to be around.”

THE THATCHER PRIZE FOR EXCELLENCE IN GRADUATE AND PROFESSIONAL STUDY

HOLLY L. GRUNTNER

The Thatcher Prize was created in honor of the 21st Chancellor of William & Mary, Margaret, The Lady Thatcher. The award is presented annually to recognize an outstanding student in graduate or professional study. The winner is selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service. The recipient of the 2024 Thatcher Prize is HOLLY L. GRUNTNER.

Dr. Gruntner graduates with her doctoral degree in history from William & Mary. She received her bachelor of arts from the University of Minnesota, Morris. After working for three years at the Library of Congress, Dr. Gruntner completed her master's degree in history at William & Mary in 2017 and held a 2022-23 prestigious dissertation fellowship at the Winterthur Museum. A nominator wrote that "Holly's research is groundbreaking — literally."

Dr. Gruntner's dissertation, "From the Ground Up: Practical Gardens and Horticultural Knowledge in Early America, 1700-1830," interrogates how Americans built practical knowledge in their kitchen gardens. One nominator writes, "Her study of vernacular botany and the production of scientific knowledge in the 18th century changes our understanding of how scientific knowledge was produced during the Enlightenment, and of who was producing it."

Dr. Gruntner has earned a plethora of research fellowships and grants through top-tier research entities, such as the Library Company of Philadelphia, American Antiquarian Society, Huntington Library and Massachusetts Historical Society. She has represented her work at more than ten academic conferences or speaking engagements.

Nominators describe Dr. Gruntner as a "stalwart, calm leader." She has brought compassion and understanding to her work as a teaching assistant and instructor. Dr. Gruntner served four years in student government as vice president and president of the History Graduate Student Association, and as a senate representative and then president of the Graduate Student Association. Nominators applaud her "integrity, diligence and commitment to serving her fellow students."

In a nominator's words, Holly Gruntner consistently resolves "to go above and beyond for everyone around her, especially the graduate community at William & Mary."

THE ALGERNON SYDNEY SULLIVAN AWARD

The Sullivan Award, given in the form of a medallion, is in recognition of influence for good, taking into consideration such characteristics of heart, mind, conduct and demonstrating a spirit of love and helpfulness to others. It is awarded each year to two individuals from the graduating student body and to a third person who has a close relationship to the university.

DANIEL A. BESS

"If you don't know DANIEL A. BESS by name, you surely know his face and smile," wrote a nominator commenting on Mr. Bess' impact on the W&M community. In heart, mind and conduct, Mr. Bess embodies the Sullivan Award's ideals of generosity and care for others.

Mr. Bess graduates with a major in finance and has accepted a job offer from his internship at Morgan Stanley. As a nominator commented, his accomplishment "speaks volumes about his academic prowess and readiness for the professional world."

Inspired by an unwavering commitment to serve his fellow students, Mr. Bess stepped into leadership roles in organizations across campus. As a resident assistant, Mr. Bess "has displayed remarkable dedication to supporting and guiding his peers, fostering an inclusive and supportive living environment." Mr. Bess' active involvement in the Student Assembly, notably as a Class of 2024 senator and Finance Committee and Organizational Budget Allocation Committee member, showcases his aptitude for collaboration and advocacy.

Mr. Bess supported his peers as a President's Aide to William & Mary President Katherine Rowe. A nominator shared that his "adept communication of student concerns and thoughtful proposals for solutions garnered him respect and trust from both students and faculty alike."

Determined to use his voice to affect positive change, Mr. Bess won the state Oratorical Competition presented by Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. His speech centered on how education can uplift troubled communities. Mr. Bess' care for his community led him to mentor middle schoolers, support voter registration drives, work in the community gardens and volunteer with the First Baptist Church and Let Freedom Ring Foundation.

As a nominator wrote, "Whether it's reading to elementary school children or empowering middle and high school students to pursue education, Daniel consistently demonstrates his dedication to making a positive impact." Nominators write that Daniel Bess sets an example of humanity for others to follow.

THE ALGERNON SYDNEY SULLIVAN AWARD

CATHERINE G. CABLE

CATHERINE G. CABLE is — in the words of one nominator — “fiercely loyal, yet approachable and kind — a combination that allowed her to shine as a leader.”

Ms. Cable graduates with a bachelor of arts in international relations and a minor in data science, and membership in Pi Sigma Alpha, the National Political Science Honor Society. Nominators praise her warmth and enthusiasm as well as her keen intellect. While on campus, Ms. Cable has served as a campus tour guide and performed in an a capella group. Her peers, colleagues and professors appreciate Ms. Cable’s hard work and generosity. As an orientation area director, one nominator notes that she would “go beyond her responsibilities to help improve others’ college experiences,” regularly surpassing her own duties to help where needed. That nominator said, “Catherine met challenges by staying true to her guiding principles.”

Another nominator described Ms. Cable as someone who has always done “what was right instead of what was easy.” While vice president of communications of Delta Gamma, Ms. Cable performed a systematic review of the social sorority’s by-laws and “spent countless hours modernizing them,” yielding many operational improvements.

Ms. Cable dives into research with curiosity. She led a team at the Geolab, where her “qualities of leadership and character have made a massive impact on what her teams write about.” Ms. Cable’s research agenda prioritizes justice around the world. She supervised a team of twelve undergraduate researchers on an article detailing the impacts to Ukrainian coal mines by the recent war with Russia. The article was published on intel.gov, an Intelligence Community site — out of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence, and amassed over 300,000 views.

Ms. Cable has also worked closely with William & Mary’s American Bosnian Collaboration. The program selects four to seven students each summer to teach English and nonviolent communication skills to teenagers in Bosnia. Ms. Cable fundraised to attend and spent a summer instructing Bosnian youth. Her nominator shared that “she opened up dialogues about course themes that were unique or challenging. She went above and beyond to truly understand what the course themes mean in a real-world setting.”

SUE HANNA GERDELMAN

SUE HANNA GERDELMAN ’76, P ’07, P ’13, personifies the virtues of the Sullivan Award. A leader who serves with distinction, Ms. Gerdelman is cherished by her communities. As one nominator writes, “There are few people as kind, thoughtful, helpful and genuinely delightful as Sue.”

At William & Mary, Ms. Gerdelman studied elementary education. She participated in the Mermettes synchronized swim team and was a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority. After graduation, Ms. Gerdelman pursued a distinguished career in public service.

A former school board member and White House staffer, Ms. Gerdelman steadfastly promotes public good. She served in the federal government in numerous roles, including as the associate director of the National Economic Council. As executive assistant to the assistant to the president for Homeland Security and Counterterrorism, she worked on briefings for President George W. Bush. A nominator shared that Ms. Gerdelman’s “commitment to serving the broader community reflects her deeply held values of civic engagement and social responsibility.”

When Ms. Gerdelman and her beloved husband, John ’75, returned to Virginia, she joined the Board of Trustees of the Jamestown-Yorktown Foundation. She is a past president of the separate Jamestown-Yorktown Foundation, Inc. At her alma mater, Ms. Gerdelman chaired the William & Mary Foundation Board and served two terms on the Board of Visitors. As Board — secretary for two terms, Ms. Gerdelman led with immense care. Former William & Mary President Taylor Reveley LL.D. ’18 wrote, “Presidents and vice presidents of W&M have for years turned to Sue for quiet guidance and reflection as her always helpful insights help us steer the ship of state.”

In 2011, Ms. Gerdelman received the Alumni Medallion, the most prestigious award given to alumni for their leadership, professional accomplishments and commitment to William & Mary. One nominator wrote, “I had countless opportunities to see how Sue dealt with other people. It was with a nobility of spirit and generosity of manner that was inspiring to behold. It was also with a cheerfulness and sense of fun that raised the spirits of everyone around her.” Another nominator shared that Ms. Gerdelman has “great empathy for fellow mortals, cares deeply for their welfare and deals with them in abiding grace and love.”

The Sullivan Award is given in honor of Ms. Gerdelman’s meaningful and joyful impact on countless members of the William & Mary community. The Alma Mater of the Nation is honored by her steadfast commitment and generosity.

THE THOMAS ASHLEY GRAVES, JR. AWARD FOR SUSTAINED EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

The Thomas Ashley Graves, Jr. Award is named for the twenty-third President of William & Mary and recognizes sustained excellence in teaching. The recipient of the award is selected annually by the President from nominations submitted by each of the academic deans.

NANCY COMBS

NANCY COMBS, Ernest W. Goodrich Professor at William & Mary Law School, has taught for nearly two decades with great success. A recognized expert in international criminal law and international human rights law, Professor Combs exemplifies the creative, engaging and personal teaching William & Mary aspires to. She has received prestigious teaching awards, including the highly esteemed McGlothlin Award for Excellence in Teaching. Her student evaluations dazzle.

Professor Combs meticulously prepares for her classes. She commands her subject matter with unparalleled expertise, inspiring students to set their ambitions high. Professor Combs curates courses relevant to students' lives by supplementing textbook assignments with current news stories, videos and press releases.

Professor Combs knows the name of every student she teaches and devotes countless hours to providing career counseling and emotional and educational support to struggling students. She regularly taps her extensive professional network — cultivated during her time as a legal adviser to the Iran-U.S. Claims Tribunal and the Eritrea-Ethiopia Claims Commission at The Hague — to help students land jobs in their chosen fields.

Professor Combs keeps a packed research, writing and speaking schedule. Within the past five years alone, she has published eight articles in top-flight law reviews and five chapters in books produced by prestigious academic presses. She has presented her research around the world, most recently in Chile, Denmark, Germany, the Netherlands and Spain. She shows that excellence in teaching and scholarship are not just compatible, but mutually generative and enriching.

A tireless mentor for her students, Professor Combs regularly advises the Law School's international competition teams and works with student groups to host prominent speakers. She supports efforts to promote diversity, equity and inclusion throughout the university, including by advising and assisting first-generation students and traditionally marginalized communities.

For her peerless dedication to students, we are delighted to honor Professor Nancy Combs with the 2024 Thomas Ashley Graves, Jr. Award for Sustained Excellence in Teaching.

DEBORAH STEINBERG

DR. DEBORAH STEINBERG, CSX Professor of Marine Science, has devoted her career to creating new knowledge and preparing a new generation of ocean scientists and leaders.

For 23 years, Professor Steinberg has inspired William & Mary students. Her Fundamentals of Biological Oceanography course is distinguished by its enormous popularity, routinely seeing the highest enrollments among marine science offerings. One only needs to walk by the classroom to observe Professor Steinberg's gifts for teaching. Samples collected through the global ocean bring the course content to life. Recent classes have participated in a research cruise in the York River aboard VIMS' research vessel Virginia, an experience many students rank as the highlight of their learning. By handing out glowing angler fish hats and cutting the lights, Professor Steinberg gives students a feel for life in the deep, dark sea.

Professor Steinberg dedicates extraordinary time, attention and care to student mentoring. A world authority on the role of zooplankton in the ocean carbon cycle, she uses her research program as a training ground for students to pursue life-changing experiences and contribute to impactful science. To date, she has mentored 19 graduate students to successful completion of master's and doctorate degrees, served on 27 graduate student advisory committees and provided hands-on research experience for 26 undergraduates. The majority of Professor Steinberg's students participated in major oceanographic research cruises as part of her long-term research program in Antarctica. As one student noted, "One of the most valuable lessons that Debbie taught me is to hold on to the joy in our work."

Professor Steinberg has elevated the graduate and undergraduate marine science programs through transformative learning. Her influence will be felt for generations to come. For her long history of excellence in teaching — in the classroom, the field, and the spaces and times in between — we honor Professor Deborah Steinberg with the Thomas A. Graves, Jr. Award for Sustained Excellence in Teaching.

THE CHARLES JOSEPH DUKE, JR. AND VIRGINIA WELTON DUKE AWARD

Annually, an endowment from Charles and Ann Duke makes possible an award to an outstanding employee of the university.

The award is given in memory of Mr. Duke's parents for their years of distinguished and loving service to William & Mary.

DOROTHY OSBORNE

DOROTHY OSBORNE has devoted her career to William & Mary. For the past 17 years, she has advanced excellence and belonging at the School of Education.

A first-generation college student herself, Ms. Osborne has made education accessible to more students and ensured that historically underrepresented students feel welcomed. She earned her undergraduate degree from North Carolina State University and her graduate degree in Higher Education Administration from the University of Oklahoma.

Senior Assistant Dean for Academic Programs and Student Services in the School of Education, Ms. Osborne runs complex processes with grace and aplomb, managing recruitment and admissions and faculty reviews. At the School of Education, she instituted new recruitment programming, served with distinction on a strategic planning steering committee and reimagined the school's marketing materials. She takes a data-driven approach to enrollment management, successfully implementing an entirely electronic admissions process and expanding William & Mary's institutional reach to new online modalities. One nominator notes that "Dot's ingenuity, creativity and ability to do a great deal with few resources provides ongoing benefit to the university."

Ms. Osborne goes above the regular demands of her role to advise students, serve on university committees and dedicate herself tirelessly to recruiting efforts. One nominator pointed to her commitment to mentoring, writing, "She helps you find your place because Dot takes joy in supporting and advocating for each person's flourishing."

Like Charles and Virginia Duke, Dot Osborne exemplifies loving and distinguished service to the William & Mary community. Her generosity, creativity and deep care for her students have left a singular impact on the university.

DARRELL PAYNE

DARRELL PAYNE has spent nearly half his life creating "little miracles" across the William & Mary campus. His steadfast leadership, kindness and incredible knowledge of the university's physical plant make him an irreplaceable member of the William & Mary community.

Mr. Payne's colleagues recognize him as a leader. As the director of the plumbing shop in Facilities Management, Mr. Payne and his crew keep W&M's vast plumbing systems running smoothly, anticipating and responding to every conceivable circumstance. One nominator shared that he "always tries to make the best of any situation, keeping his team moving forward and productive no matter the obstacles."

Mr. Payne's work exemplifies the behind-the-scenes effort that goes into making a high-profile event smooth and safe for everyone. In May 2007, Queen Elizabeth II visited William & Mary as part of her tour celebrating Jamestown's 400th anniversary. When security personnel deemed the area around the Wren Building a potential risk, Mr. Payne deftly stepped in, welding shut the covers of the manholes that access the sewer system. Once Her Majesty had left, he then undertook the work of reopening each manhole. Because of Mr. Payne's commitment, the community was able to gather for an unforgettable and joyful afternoon, with no idea of what could have gone astray.

One nominator wrote that, "Darrell goes way above and beyond to keep things working." He has excavated and replaced a pipe in Zable Stadium just before kickoff at a Tribe football game. When Hurricane Isabel devastated campus, Mr. Payne slept in his shop for four consecutive nights. His instinct for collaboration led him to be part of the Facilities Management team that worked with Dominion Energy to limit a power outage in Botetourt and the Keck Lab to just 24 hours, so that students could utilize those spaces in time to prepare for exams.

"Darrell's leadership allows the plumbing shop to succeed at the highest standards," shared a nominator.

VALUES IN ACTION AWARDS

The Values in Action Award recognizes staff and faculty whose exceptional service exemplifies William & Mary's stated values: Belonging, Curiosity, Excellence, Flourishing, Integrity, Respect and Service.

DEBBIE RAMER

DEBBIE RAMER is a clinical faculty member at the W&M School of Education, principal investigator of the W&M Training & Technical Assistance Center, co-principal investigator of the Next Move grant and co-director of the W&M School of Education Literacy Lab. Her research focuses on expanding literacy in her communities. One nominator writes, "I truly cannot name another individual who has had a larger impact on both the William & Mary community and the greater Williamsburg community as a whole than Professor Ramer." The Literacy Lab's influential work brings together William & Mary faculty, staff and students with local elementary schools. Collaborative partnerships provide tutoring to students struggling to read and professional development for teachers. Last fall, Professor Ramer and her team recruited and trained over 40 William & Mary volunteers to use evidence-based practices to support reading development. That team then served 384 students in our community.

CHARLIE FOSTER

CHARLIE FOSTER M.Ed. '17, directs William & Mary's Office of Student Veteran Engagement. Mr. Foster enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps after September 11, 2001, where he served as a Combat Correspondent. He later earned his master's degree in higher education administration at William & Mary. Mr. Foster's work focuses on student veterans' transition from the military into higher education. Colleagues describe him as an "indefatigable" and "fiercely loyal" leader dedicated to the student veterans whom he serves. One nominator recounts a conversation in which students were asked how universities can support veteran students. The response was simple and clear: "Every university needs a Charlie Foster." Mr. Foster is deeply dedicated to the students he serves and connects them with resources and allies for their educational journey.

AMY TELLER

AMY TELLER '98, M.B.A. '18, teaches students in the online Masters in Marketing program. Professor Teller has flourished at William & Mary as a talented student and an innovative and caring instructor. One nominator writes, "Amy has been a leader in our faculty relative to leveraging AI to enhance learning experiences, demonstrating her commitment to exploring new methodologies and tools. This pursuit not only enriches her students' understanding but also reflects her dedication to personal and professional growth." The 2021 recipient of the Faculty Excellence Award for the Online MBA program, Professor Teller is unwaveringly dedicated to her William & Mary community. She skillfully cultivates belonging online and also visits campus several times a year to engage in person. A second nominator writes that Professor Teller "bleeds green and gold."

MICHAEL GAYNES

MICHAEL GAYNES, associate teaching professor of art, leads interdisciplinary courses in sculpture. His work focuses on concepts of time and memory, force and motion, embodiment and the nature of the self. A champion of the COLL curriculum, Professor Gaynes served on the COLL 350 committee with enthusiasm and an eye toward innovation. He developed a COLL 350 course that engaged students and the wider William & Mary community in the design of the university's Hearth: Memorial to the Enslaved. Colleagues and students across campus credit Professor Gaynes for his collaborative spirit and tireless commitment to bridging differences. One nominator writes, "He is always willing to push up his sleeves and assist in multiple capacities and at a moment's notice, and for that we are grateful for his service."
